First National To Put Up $250,000 Building Soon

READY FOR START OF BIG BANK PROJECT

Delay Caused by Main St., Widening Effort Is Now
At An End

ADDITIONAL DIRECTOR
PUT ON LIST TODAY

Report of Officers Show Combined Resources of $10,266,082.01

THAT the First National Bank's directors are planning to bring to an early consummation a project for the erection of a five- or six-story building at the southwest corner of Fourth and Main streets was announced at the annual meeting of stockholders of the bank this morning.

The statement was made by A. J. Crookshank, president of the bank. He said that the directors have delayed the matter for a time by reason of the fact that it was thought possible that an effort would be made to widen Main street south of Fourth street.

The directors did not want to build until that matter was settled. It has now been decided by those working upon the widening proposal to attempt widening only as far south as Fourth street. With that decision, the bank building project can now go ahead.

The bank president stated that the new building will probably cost $250,000. It will occupy space 75 by 100 feet.

"The growth of our business has been so rapid that he have had to change our floor plans," said Crookshank. "It is now our intention to place all of the vaults in the basement, which will give us more room on the first floor for our banking room. It is our intention to proceed as rapidly as possible now with the plans."

At the annual meeting of stockholders this morning about 1700 shares were represented by proxy and over 1100 in person. The bank has about 400 stockholders, which is an element of great strength as an institution in the county.

At the meeting of stockholders this morning a resolution was adopted approving and commending the officers and directors of the bank for their work during the past year.

One Extra Director

The meeting this morning resulted in the election of one additional director, M. C. Wilde, recently made vice-president of the bank. The thirteen other directors were all re-elected. The directors of the bank are: Dr. C. D. Ball, Geo. S. Briggs, A. J. Crookshank, C. S. Crookshank, W. A. Huff, Geo. W. Minter, W. G. Mitchell, C. E. Parker, Chas. A. Riggs, Robert M. Simon, Sherman Stevens, W. B. Williams, A. F. Zaizer and M. C. Wilde.

Following the election of directors the directors met and re-elected officers for the bank as follows: A. J. Crookshank, president; M. C. Wilde, W. A. Huff, George S. Briggs, C. S. Crookshank, vice-presidents; W. B. Williams, cashier; A. F. Zaizer, J. H. Turner, W. B. Tedford, E. M. Robinson, N. A. Beals, assistant cashiers.

The report of the officers showed that the First National Bank and the Farmers & Merchants Savings Bank, the stock in the latter being owned exclusively by stockholders of the First National, show a combined capital and surplus of $950,000, combined deposits of $8,708,162.36 and combined resources of $10,266,082.01.

SUFFRAGE RATIFIED

Troops Of Denikin Evacuate Odessa; Red Offer Rejected

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Odessa has been evacuated by General Denikin's troops, according to advices to newspapers here today.

Poland has rejected the bolshevik peace offer, according to a dispatch from Cracow, which said the government was hastening its preparations to meet the threatened bolshevik drive in the spring.

A dispatch to the Chronicle from Milan said that Nikolai Lenine, soviet premier, had transmitted a letter to the supreme executive of the Italian socialists, through an envoy who landed at Naples, imploring the party "to abstain from revolutionary movements which present conditions offer little likelihood of success."

USED HYPNOTIC INFLUENCE FOR HELP, IS CLAIM

MARKESAN, Wis., Jan. 13.—Dr. A. J. Freudenberg, held today on the charge of murdering Mrs. Nettie Duffies, his mother-in-law, exercised a hypnotic influence over his wife to procure her support in the fight to clear himself of the accusation, it was suggested by District Attorney Charles Paul today.

The main evidence on which the coroner's jury reached a verdict accusing Dr. Freudenberg of the murder was given by Mrs. Minnie Ballard, a nurse, of Fond Du Lac, Wis. In a deposition, the nurse said:

"Mrs. Freudenberg told us she believed the doctor was responsible for her mother's death and talked about it constantly. She was very angry with him and said to him in my presence, 'If you did anything to finish my mother, you better get her well and do it damn quick.'"

Since the accusation was made by the coroner's jury, however, Mrs. Freudenberg has stood with her husband and said she would spend all of her half million dollar estate left by her mother, if necessary, to clear her husband.

When Freudenberg was arrested, Dist. Atty. Paul asked that the preliminary hearing be held up until January 22. He said today his reason for this was the hope that if Freudenberg is retained in jail until that time, it may serve to break an influence which he may have held over his wife.

Steps to exhumate the body of Alfred Duffies, his father-in-law, were taken today. The county board was to authorize expenditure of funds for that purpose. Four members of the Duffies family died under mysterious circumstances within four years.

The coroner's jury alleged Dr. Freudenberg caused his mother-in-law's death by injection of a mustard solution.

MEETING TO PROTEST OUSTING SOCIALISTS

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—A mass meeting protesting against suspension of the five socialist assemblymen will be held soon in Madison Square Garden. This decision was reached last night at a conference of representatives of eighty organizations, numbering six hundred thousand persons, most of whom are not socialists. More than $30,000 to carry on the fight for reinstatement of the five assemblymen also was raised at the meeting.

BERESFORD PROVIDES FOR OWN BIOGRAPHY

LONDON, Jan. 13.—A clause in Admiral Lord Beresford's will reads: "I bequeath to my wife all my MSS., letters, memoranda and private papers of literary, biographical or historical interest, and I desire that she will make arrangements for the collection and publication thereof (omitting such of them as, having regard to the feelings of living persons or the interests of the services, or on any other grounds, she shall in her discretion think fit to keep private) by some publishing firm of good repute on terms to be approved by the trustees or trustee, and under the supervision or with the co-operation (as regards literary form) of some competent person of her selection."

JURY TO GET NEW CASE POSSIBLY TONIGHT

Chief Counsel for Defense Speaks But Short Time;
Woolwine Begins

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—This afternoon it seemed possible that the case of Harry S. New accused of murder would go to the jury tonight, or if not then early tomorrow morning.

Arguments in behalf of New were brought to a sudden halt this morning when LeCompte Davis, chief of the defense counsel, announced he would leave the case in the jury's hands without further argument. He made this announcement in closing a 25 minute address to the jury which was in direct contrast to the full day of oratory which had been furnished by other lawyers who had spoken.

"To call this man a red-handed murderer is not a sign that he is sane," David told the jury. "The defense of insanity that we have placed before you is based on the diseased condition of a human mind and any intimation that this man is assuming insanity we will leave to you to decide."

Davis completed his brief address shortly before 11 o'clock, and District Attorney Woolwine immediately started the closing argument for the state.

Wouldn't Stay in Asylum
"The only difference between this murder and any other murder is that this man's father is a United States senator," Woolwine declared in opening his speech. "If this man is sent to an asylum with a United States senator back of him he will not stay there a year."

As Woolwine progressed in his argument he became increasingly vehement. He attacked the insanity defense spiritedly.

"Where isn't a man in the state of California who hasn't some peculiarity," the prosecutor said. "You cannot judge the beat of a man's heart by the gold in his pocket."

"I want to send the cry down the years, 'New is crazy like a fox.'"

"We must defend that curly-headed little girl not only disposed of her innocence, but slain out on the lone highway. She cannot come here to testify. She has gone to her Maker."

Woolwine reached great heights of emotion, at times raising and lowering his voice until first he could be heard far down the corridors and then again he was scarcely audible.

New continued to maintain his unchanging attitude of indifference throughout the opening hours of Woolwine's address and seemed unmoved when he was denounced as a murderer.

AMBASSADOR SAYS U. S. WAIVES SHIP CLAIMS

PARIS, Jan. 13.—The supreme council of the peace conference today notified Hugh Wallace, American ambassador, that its decision to award the United States only two per cent of the German shipping to be distributed among the allied and associated powers was unchanged.

Wallace immediately replied that the United States preferred to waive its claim entirely.

The conference completed the Hungarian treaty, without modification today. It refused the Serbian request that the Croats be recognized as a separate entity within Hungary.

Following these actions the council virtually passed out of existence. It was decided to refer all questions in future to a committee of ambassadors. The council also decided to publish the minutes of the peace conference.

SHOE MACHINE CASE BEGUN.
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 13.—Hearing of the Government's case against the United Shoe Machine Company has begun in the United States District Court here. The case is said to be important because it will be the first to construe that provision of the Clayton Act which amends the Federal anti-trust laws.

Villages Of Alpine Region Are Swept Away By Avalanches

ROME, Jan. 13.—Several villages in the Alpine regions have been wiped out by avalanches, which followed severe storms in that district, according to dispatches here today.

In the province of Piedmont, along the Swiss frontier, an avalanche smothered the village of Demonte. Workers so far had recovered six bodies, the dispatch said. Other dispatches reported destruction of the villages of Vernante and Limone, but said the populations were warned and fled before the avalanche struck.

To the north near Acosta an avalanche swept down the valley at night, burying one house in which seven people were sleeping.

GIVES SELF UP, SAYS HE SLEW WIFE IN FIGHT

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—Walking into the office of Sheriff Cline, shortly before noon today, T. E. McCann surrendered to the sheriff saying he had murdered his wife, Mary McCann, whose body was found at their home last night.

Later, according to Cline, McCann signed a complete confession. Cline said McCann told him he had quarreled with his wife over religion and that she attacked him with a butcher knife. A fight followed, according to his version at the end of which McCann cut his wife's throat with a razor and then severed the arteries of both wrists.

McCann then attempted suicide by taking poison, Cline said, but evidently took an overdose. The poison, Cline said, had no effect on McCann and after a night's sleep he came to the sheriff's office and surrendered.

589 STILL MISSING FROM WRECKED SHIP

PARIS, Jan. 13.—Five hundred and eighty-nine were still missing today following the wreck of the steamer Afrique, which sank in the Bay of Biscay early yesterday. They were believed to have perished.

The steamer, which was bound from Bordeaux to Dakar, carried 465 passengers and a crew of 150. Only two lifeboats, containing 26 persons, have been picked up.

During a terrific gale Saturday the Afrique sprang a leak and was driven off its course. It was kept afloat with difficulty until about 3 o'clock yesterday morning when it sank fifty miles off La Rochelle.

Help Obtain a Full Count Of Citizens in Santa Ana

WITH enumerators of Santa Ana and the Chamber of Commerce today bending every effort to make a complete census of this city in order that the city shall receive full credit for her population, the citizens are asked to co-operate in the undertaking. They can facilitate the work by reporting their names into the Chamber of Commerce if they have not been enumerated.

Chas. G. Rowan, census supervisor for this district, was in the city this afternoon and announced that he had received a wire last night from W. M. Steuart, assistant director of census at Washington, to the effect that the census would continue until every effort was exhausted to secure a full listing of residents in the district.

Rowan was on his way to Riverside, Redlands and San Bernardino, where people are much exercised over the situation. He will return through Santa Ana tomorrow and will stop for a short time.

Santa Ana is the only city in the district where active steps to assist in the work have been taken by the Chamber of Commerce.

Santa Ana may within the next ten years want to ask the federal government for a federal building or appropriation for a site, and the figures as shown in the 1920 report will be the basis upon which members of Congress will judge Santa Ana. It is to the personal interest of every resident of Santa Ana to see that every man, woman and child in Santa Ana is listed.

Slips today were sent to the various rooming houses for the proprietors to fill out the names of tenants. Rowan stated today that this action in San Diego had resulted in the securing of thousands of names there that probably would not have been obtained otherwise.

Everybody boost for a big census.

Democratic Principles of League Can Be Restored,
He Declares

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 13.—The Democratic principles of the league of nations can be restored by future congresses, William J. Bryan told an audience of 5,000 here last night when he urged compromise ratification of the peace treaty within the week.

The treaty must be disposed of, he said, to make way for unobstructed consideration of the following issues in the 1920 campaign:

Creation of city and state trade commissions for prosecution of profiteers.

Extension of free speech and a free press to all upholders of the government.

Public ownership of monopolies, including railroads, telephone and telegraph lines.

A just and fair transition to peace time taxation.

Cheer for Ratification
A volume of cheering followed his announcement that he expected ratification of the peace treaty by January 16 and representation of the United States in the first sitting of the league of nations at Paris on that date.

The audience was equally enthusiastic when he said that the amendments to the treaty should be made the 1920 issue instead of the treaty itself, if there was to be such an issue.

He accused the Republicans of having procrastinated for five months and declared that Democrats could not accept the responsibility of delaying termination of the war for another 14 months.

Popular election of United States delegates to the council of the league of nations was a Democratic obligation, he said.

BIG BRIDGE WRECKED BY FLOOD IN MEXICO

NOGALES, Ariz., Jan. 13.—Floods on the Fuerte river have wrecked the Southern Pacific of Mexico's $100,000 bridge across the river near San Blas, Sinaloa, temporarily tying up traffic, according to a dispatch reaching here today.

The bridge was finished three months ago. A temporary structure will be finished in about two weeks.

HAYS PROMISES SQUARE JOB AT G. O. P. MEETING

MEXICO SEEKS LAW TO CHECK CHINESE ENTRY

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, and regional leaders of that party today resumed the task of organization for the national campaign.

Declaring he is to referee the presidential contest in the National Republican convention, Hays said he would see to it that it is a fair and square job.

"My business is to elect candidates and not to select them," he asserted. "There are no factions in the Republican party. There are no yesterday's in our politics. We are together now because we have work to do for the good of the country and it takes us all to do it."

"The Republican national convention will be moved by motives of patriotism. It will be guided by irrevocable purpose for exact justice and fairness for every participant. The result of the convention will express the will of the membership of the party."

"And the nominee of the convention will be elected."

Hays will deliver a keynote speech to 2,000 Republicans tonight at a banquet in the Palace Hotel. He is expected to touch on the party's platform.

Two conferences took place today.

The new organization will be divided into two sections, one to consist of exhibitors and the other of distributors.

HAYS PROMISES SQUARE JOB AT G. O. P. MEETING

MEXICO SEEKS LAW TO CHECK CHINESE ENTRY

NOGALES, Ariz., Jan. 13.—Resolutions abrogating the Mexican treaty of friendship and commerce with China, as a step toward negotiating a new treaty which would permit passage of Chinese exclusion laws by Mexico, have been introduced in the Mexican senate, according to a dispatch from Mexico City.

A resolution is an outgrowth of anti-Chinese agitation which has centered around Cananea.

The same dispatch says that lavish entertainment was bestowed on officers of the Japanese cruiser Yakuma, who have been visiting Mexico City. The Japanese party has just returned to the ship which is to leave today for Japan.

Advices from Cananea, where anti-Chinese agitation resulted in an order for all Chinese merchants to close their stores and leave on January 1, show the order was not enforced and Chinese are doing business unmolested.

Federal troops which were sent to Cananea to protect the Chinese were withdrawn yesterday.

BOTH SIDES READY TO EXCHANGE VIEWS

Selection of Democratic Floor Leader Awaited
By Senators

BELIEVE UNDERWOOD
WOULD BE ENERGETIC

Alabama Man Says Outlook
"Hopeful" and Expects Quick Action

By L. C. MARTIN

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The next step in senate negotiations for a treaty compromise is expected soon after the Democratic caucus Thursday, when a floor leader is to be selected.

A joint meeting of Democrats and Republicans at which general discussion will take place will probably be called. Such a meeting has already been tentatively arranged. From 40 to 50 senators are expected to attend.

Those behind this plan believe negotiations now have reached a stage where a free interchange of views in a bi-partisan conference of senators honestly seeking ratification would do much to unify the treaty's real friends.

The reason the conference may be delayed until after the Democrats choose their leader Thursday is that some senators believe that if Underwood, Alabama, is elected, he will prove much more energetic in behalf of compromise than Senator Hitchcock, the acting leader and Underwood's rival for the honor.

Hitchcock has been keeping aloof from negotiations on the grounds that as President Wilson's spokesman he must take the same position as the president and not appear to be consenting to any qualification of the treaty.

Underwood, calling at the White House today to see Secretary Tamm, said he believed he would be elected minority leader at the caucus Thursday. If chosen leader, he said, he will not take from Hitchcock the direction of the Democratic forces in the treaty fight. He characterized the situation as "hopeful" and said a compromise would, in his estimation, be reached without the necessity of appointing conciliation committees.

The situation today is this: "Democrats of the Kendrick-McKellar group have sent word to Lodge that they are willing to accept the Lodge reservations on Shantung and on voting power in the league of nations; Lodge has agreed that four points are 'discussable'—namely, the preamble, the labor reservations, voting power and Shantung, but has definitely excluded article 10 and the Monroe doctrine from negotiations."

Democrats Sympathetic
The McKellar-Kendrick group notified Lodge that they are sure of 35 Democratic votes for their reservations and that several other Democrats are sympathetic; at the same time they acknowledged that not a single Democrat of the 35 has actually been pledged to their program.

"Republican irreconcilables" today said they sent a Democratic "plot" in the Democrats' activity for a compromise. According to the "irreconcilables' view, the Democrats are trying to get enough votes, by combining with Republican moderate reservations, to make a majority of the senate. Then, according to the "irreconcilables," the coalition will put to a vote the compromise proposals agreed upon, even though Lodge and his supporters should not approve them. The Lodge reservations and "irreconcilables" would then prevent ratification, their opposition preventing the coalition from getting a two-thirds vote, the Democrats could charge Lodge and his group with entire responsibility for the failure of the senate act.

FAILED TO GRAB ANY OF THE DRAG-NETTERS

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 13.—Fishermen who have been suspected of using drag-nets in violation of the state fish and game laws were not to be found on the high seas Sunday when Deputy Fish and Game Warden Webb Toms started his sea raid at night, Saturday.

Toms admits that he is up against a slippery aggregation of "drag-netters." He had things planned to apprehend several local and San Pedro fishermen early Sunday morning, who have been persistently violating the laws, it is alleged. Toms went as far as San Onofre in his quest for the would-be spoilers of the sea, but the only thing he sighted was a piece of cork from a net, a couple of herring, a dozen or so of cod and a flock of gulls. It was a quiet Sabbath between Point Loma and San Onofre.

USE BOAT SEATS TO REACH SHORE ON ICE

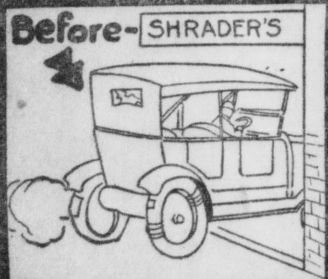

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Jan. 13.—After becoming ice bound when the engine of their motorboat failed several miles off-shore near Rocky Point on upper Klamath Lake during the cold spell, Paul and Louis Wampler, ranchers, escaped by fashioning skis from the seats of the boat, on which they were able to cross the ice safely.

The boat is still in the ice and will remain until spring. Report of the ranchers' experience reached here today. The cold came on, they said with unusual rapidity, and their boat lay in the water, with its engine dead, the ice seemed to form about it instantly. In a few minutes they were absolutely hemmed in.

Huge Lobsters Caught Off Nova Scotia Most Of World Supply On Eastern Coast

Seawall, St. Mary's Bay Hatchery, Nova Scotia.

This Grandfather is three feet long. —Compare with the man.

Crustaceans Worth Millions Every Season; Laws Are Being Enforced

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 13.—Canada produces 90 per cent of the lobster supply of the world, and, in addition, the finest lobsters. The lobsters of the New England coast are the little brothers of the noble crustaceans native to the more northern and colder waters of Canada, and, indeed, Canadian female lobsters are selected for use in our own hatcheries to improve the strain. The Labrador coast has the greatest known supply, but is too distant to be available for commercial purposes at present. Our main supply now comes from the Gulf of St. Lawrence and particularly around the famous Island of Anticosti, and from the waters about Nova Scotia.

Nova Scotia is famous for romance, apples, cherries, and last but not least, lobsters. The government has every intention that this happy state of affairs shall continue and maintains fifteen hatcheries in the province. The lobsters are also guarded out of season by strict protective laws.

The Nova Scotia 1919 lobster season has been very satisfactory. The total catch is given as 5,325,096 pounds, valued at $1,396,946. The catch was somewhat smaller than in 1918, when the quantity was 6,285,820 pounds, but a much higher valuation is put on the 1919 catch. The value of the 1918 catch was $779,397. In 1919 there were 1,020,864 pounds of lobsters put up in the canneries and 4,311,232 pounds of live lobsters were exported. In Nova Scotia the price for live lobsters was 10 cents a pound, but much higher prices were paid in Boston, when canned Nova Scotia lobster brought 67.8 cents a pound.

The 1919 season lasted only from March 1 to May 31, instead of from December 15 to May 31 as in previous years.

PROPOSE GOLF COURSE FOR FULLERTON PARK

FULLERTON, Jan. 13.—Directors of the Fullerton Board of Trade have instructed Secretary Harry L. Wilber to get in touch with some golf expert in Los Angeles and have him look over the 30 acre tract recently purchased by the city for park purposes with the end in view of installing a golf course on the tract. If the expert thinks it is feasible the proposition will be recommended to the city Board of Trustees by the directors of the Board of Trade. A country club with a golf course is being established by Whittier and La Habra people and it is up to Fullerton residents to get in line and have a golf course of their own which will prove one of the great attractions of the city, not only as a recreation field, for residents but for tourists and visitors.

CONDUCT DRIVE SOON FOR COIN FOR G. O. P.

Memories of the Liberty loan, Red Cross, and Army welfare campaigns will be awakened in California soon, when solicitors for the Republican campaign fund begin making their rounds of the party followers.

The Republican party is going directly to the people who believe in its principles for the money to carry on its campaign.

The five-figure contributions from individuals and corporations that featured previous campaigns will be lacking in the 1920 fight, and no contribution will be accepted larger than $1000. This will make necessary about ten times the usual amount of work to raise the funds, and it is the task undertaken by the National Ways and Means committee, which has divided the country into regional zones for this work.

Region Headquarters
The headquarters for Region No. 6 comprising the nine states, California, Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Wyoming, Idaho, Montana, Washington and Oregon, are in the Mills building, San Francisco. Albert Lindley, or Stockton, has been made regional director and Edward H. Brown, of San Francisco, regional campaign director. Brown managed the Red Cross campaigns in the Pacific division and recently put over the Roosevelt memorial campaign in the same states. He will canvass for Republican contributions.

Since the western office was opened Lindley and Brown have been organizing state ways and means committees in each of the states and aiding them organize county and community units.

In many ways the organizations will be patterned after the Liberty loan drive organizations. Because of its size California has been divided into two parts and each will be carried on records as a separate state. R. M. Tobin, secretary of the Hibernian Savings Bank and Loan Society, will be in charge of the northern district and Joseph Crail will manage the southern campaign.

Solicitors to Work
The Republican ways and means committee will send out solicitors who will accept pledges and contributions from anyone. Factories, shops, stores and public places will be visited in the search for large and small pledges. It will be possible to arrange for partial payment pledges, payable in installments, if the pledger desires.

TWO DENVER SCHOOL GIRLS SHOOT SELVES

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 13.—Two North Denver high school girls suffering from nervous diseases shot themselves within the last 36 hours. Soon after reading to Mildred Stuart, 15, had killed herself, Edith Clapper, 14, a class mate, put a bullet in her head and is believed to be dying today. Miss Stuart was melancholy because her classmates ostracized her socially, she thought. Miss Clapper's nervousness resulted in her having difficulty with her studies. The authorities found no suggestion of a suicide pact or a disappointing love affair in either case.

WELCOME INQUIRY IN TAKING L. A. CENSUS

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—"We welcome the fullest investigation" was the answer today of Census Supervisor Dodson of Los Angeles county to reports that Minneapolis officials have filed charges at Washington that Los Angeles is wasting Minneapolis tourists as permanent residents in taking the census. Dodson, on the other hand, said that many people claim they are tourists when they have lived here two years or more.

FOUR GOVERNORS ON WOOD'S COMMITTEE

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—A rise in Wood stock was registered on the political ticker with the announcement here today that four midwestern governors had accepted places on the Wood national campaign committee.

Governor Henry Allen of Kansas, Governor J. E. Burroughs of Minnesota, Governor Peter Norbeck of South Dakota and Governor Oliver N. Shoup of Colorado have signified that they were behind the general's candidacy, it was announced at the Wood headquarters here today.

Other governors have indicated their favorable attitude toward Wood, it was announced, and will be added to the list within a few days.

OLYMPIC SMOKE DRIFTING TO AMERICA

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Smoke of Olympic fires is drifting across the Atlantic, but so far very little has been done to kindle the fire under America's boiler of prospects.

No open moves have been made by the American committee. A questionnaire asking for enlightenment on fifty points was sent to the Belgian committee with Lieutenant Colonel Leon Osterie, head of the Belgian military committee, who recently visited this country.

As soon as the answer is received the committee will convene and start work on a definite basis.

Two countries—Sweden and Italy—planted their seeds several months ago and have a good sized crop of possibilities peeping above the ground. The Swedes have raised a fund corresponding to $200,000 and have signed Ernie Bjerberg, famous throughout the United States and Scandinavia as an athletic tutor, as coach. He is operating through committees in the various districts of the nation.

Engage Platt Adams
Wishing to inject some Yankee stuff into their team, the Italians scored what they think is a ten stroke when they engaged Platt Adams, an American, to train their team. They have announced that Georges Carpentier will appear in an exhibition bout this spring to boost their drive for funds.

Most of the Olympic talk in America centers around the selection of a coach. Lawson Robertson, Pennsylvania; "Pooch" Donovan, Harvard; Martin Delaney, Chicago, and Coach Hayward, Oregon, have been named as probable successors of the late Mike Murphy.

Robertson looms up now as the favorite owing to his familiarity with the Murphy system. When Murphy was forced to his bed at Stockholm, Robertson took hold of the American team and proved a capable director. As a competitor and coach the Pennsylvania mentor took part in the games at St. Louis in 1904—Athens in 1906, London in 1908 and at Stockholm in 1912.

The greatest task facing the American trainer is to keep his charges in condition during the long trip across the water. In this line Donovan appears to have the edge.

No Ordinary Trainer
His feat in taking Harvard's football team, after it had broken training several weeks, whipped it back into shape again, keeping it in condition during a transcontinental jaunt of 3,000 miles and then putting it on a field under July weather conditions and having it fresher at the close of the game than the natives of that climate proved him no ordinary trainer.

"Pooch" has a reputation at Harvard of scoring his greatest success with the most temperamental athletes. He has loads of personality with tons of ability, his friends say.

Some changes in the Olympic date have been heard of unofficially by A. U. headquarters. According to L. J. Garcy, Belgian official, the swimming dates have been moved up one month to August 22-23 to circumvent the necessity of having the American team sent over in two sections. Official announcement of new dates with further information of several points brought up by the American committee is expected soon.

No Great Act of Heroism Required
If some great act of heroism was necessary to protect a child from croup, no mother would hesitate to protect her offspring, but when it is only necessary to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and give it as soon as the first indication of croup appears, there are many who neglect it. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is within the reach of all and is prompt and effective.—Adv.

CUSTODY OF KIDDIES DENIED MAN IN SUIT

On the ground that it was alleged in Esther Patton Wiley's complaint for divorce that L. R. Wiley, Jr., was addicted to the intemperate use of intoxicating liquors, Superior Judge Williams today denied a motion, made by Attorney Leonard Evans, of Anaheim, that Wiley be granted the custody of his two minor children pending the trial of the action. The court intimated that another reason for denying the motion was because it was shown by Attorney G. P. A. Adams, of Los Angeles, counsel for the wife, that Wiley had violated an injunction to remain away from Mrs. Wiley's home, near Fullerton.

MAN CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLING HORSES

Julian Luna today swore to a complaint charging Tomas Vega with embezzling two bay mares, alleged to be worth $200, and a set of double harness, said to be worth $35. It was set forth in the complaint that on October 10, last, Luna entrusted Vega, as bailee, with the horses and harness and that Vega has appropriated them to his own use.

GRANTED DIVORCE

Superior Judge Williams today granted Mamie Sargent an interlocutory decree of divorce from Albert S. Sargent. Eden and Koepsel were attorneys for the plaintiff.

BATTLE WAGED OVER DEL MAR PETITION

After a determined battle had been waged today between opposing factions in the proceedings, the board of supervisors denied the petition of the F. D. Cornell Company, owners of the Corona del Mar tract, at the entrance of Newport harbor, for the abandonment of certain streets and alleys in the tract, except as to that portion of Thirtieth street located west of block 231.

The action of the board followed more than two hours of argument, delivered by both sides. F. D. Cornell was represented by Attorney Oliver O. Clark of Los Angeles, who waged a strenuous fight designed to have the supervisors give approval to the petition, which had for its object the cutting down of Ocean boulevard, running along the top of the palisades on the ocean front, from 110 feet to 60 feet.

That portion of the tract which the supervisors today ordered abandoned is that section located in front of the Palisades tavern. In this section there are no parcels upon which homes might be built, thus shutting off the view of people owning property further back.

$10,000 Homes Mentioned
It was intimated at today's hearing before the board that at least one of the objects of the Cornell company had in seeking the narrowing of Ocean boulevard was to make it possible to sell certain lots, in front of the boulevard, to parties who had signified their willingness to put up residences costing not less than $10,000 each.

A number of Los Angeles and Pasadena people, who have residences in the Corona del Mar tract, entered a vigorous protest. One of those who fought the granting of the petition was May E. Hart of Long Beach, who told the board that as long as Ocean boulevard remained 110 feet in width he need have no fear of anyone building a residence in front of her property. She did not like the possibility of someone's back porch being built to within 60 feet or so of her front porch, she said.

May Give Up Building
Attorney Clark told the board that W. I. Hollingsworth and W. J. Hole both were ready to put up homes costing not less than $10,000, provided they could secure lots on certain promontories located between Ocean boulevard and the shore. He said that if the Cornell petition were not granted both Hollingsworth and Hole probably would give up their building plans.

Both Cornell and Attorney Clark laid stress on plans which they declared the Cornell company has in view for the development of the Corona del Mar tract. The execution of these plans, it was indicated, hinged upon the granting of the petition.

Torrey Everett of Pasadena, one of the protestants, said:

"We have all seen Mr. Cornell's plans and we think they are perfectly chimerical and ridiculous." Everett declared that he and other protestants had lived at Corona del Mar for a number of years, in spite of difficulties, which, he said, consisted in a scarcity of water on occasions and the difficulty of transportation across the bay to and from Balboa.

The Cornell company's most vital need at this time, as far as improvement was concerned, was to see that an adequate supply of water was available for residents in the tract and that they be provided ample means of transportation, Everett declared.

A strong presentation of the protestants' side of the case was given by Attorney Louis F. Labarere of Los Angeles.

The Cornell company now will present another petition, probably accompanied by a plat, showing exactly what will result to the various lots in the tract, provided abandonment of additional streets and alleys were approved by the supervisors.

TWO ARRESTED FOR VEGETABLE ROBBERY

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 13.—Two truck loads of potatoes, a touring car, two motor trucks, five Italians and four Chinese were the main elements in an international vegetable robbery at San Fernando early today.

The deputy sheriffs figured in the affair later when they arrested Joe, Mike and Tony Humalo, Italians, on charges of robbery. At the same time the potatoes were returned to their rightful owners.

The five Italians, according to the sheriff, appeared at the ranch of the four Chinese. They forced the Chinese into the touring car and drove them to an arroyo two miles away. Then the Italians left the Chinese and the touring car by the roadside and boarded two waiting auto trucks, in which they drove back to the ranch. The potatoes were loaded on the trucks.

Then the Italians returned to the arroyo, released the Chinese and drove away in the touring car again.

"Fine generalship," remarked a deputy sheriff, "but not quite fine enough."

ITALIAN EXTREMISTS URGE SEIZING ROADS

ROME, Jan. 12.—Extremists among the dissatisfied railway workers today openly advocated seizure of the roads. An agreement between the Unions and the government appeared improbable. All concessions offered by the government have been rejected.

The situation has been complicated by refusal of post office, telephone and telegraph workers to accept the government's offers.

OUTLOOK TODAY GOOD FOR HIGH SCHOOL BONDS

Indications at noon today that the vote upon the Santa Ana High school $110,000 bonds today will be much heavier than it was at the September election. Probably fully twice as many votes will be cast today as was cast on Sept. 3.

The vote in September was 472 for the bonds and 211 against. At noon on that day hardly 100 votes had been cast in the entire city. Today at noon over ninety votes had been cast in one precinct alone, that with its polling place at Intermediate school. Even at that the vote is light.

Automobiles and telephones are playing parts in today's election. Under the direction of the Parent-Teacher Associations, high school pupils are driving automobiles to take voters to the polls.

An endless chain was started this morning among the women. A woman telephoned five women and got the promise of each woman to go to the polls and vote for the bonds and to telephone to five others.

Those who are working for the bonds feel quite confident of victory, but are basing their hopes upon their determination to keep up their hard fight till the polls close at 6 o'clock tonight. There is no organized opposition.

LETTERS READ IN LAND DEAL CASE

Letters purporting to have been exchanged between Mrs. C. Simmons, of Anaheim, and W. E. Mills of Santa Barbara, relative to the prospective purchase by her of a lot located in the Eucalyptus Forest tract, east of Anaheim, were read in to the record today in the court of Superior Judge Williams, where an action for $500 damages for alleged violation of contract was being tried. The letters formed the contract, it was stated by Attorney E. J. Marks, of the firm of Marks & Lamer of Fullerton, counsel for Mrs. Simmons. The introduction of the missives was contested by Attorneys Tipton and Callor, of Anaheim, counsel for Mills.

It was the plaintiff's allegation that at all times since April 30, 1919, she was ready and willing to pay $300 for the lot in question. She alleged that on that date the lot was of the reasonable value of $300. Mills refused to execute a conveyance, the plaintiff alleged.

ARMY EXHIBITS ON DISPLAY TODAY

With the view of showing the educational and vocational training features of the army and stimulate recruiting, a party of 33 officers and enlisted men, including a 20-piece band of the 32nd U. S. Regular Infantry, arrived in Santa Ana this morning and is camped on the vacant lot, donated for the purpose by the Pacific Telephone Company, at the corner of Fifth and Bush streets.

The detachment will be in Santa Ana until the morning of January 16, when it will leave for Oceanside.

Every display will be ready for public inspection this afternoon. None will be shown anywhere except on the Fifth street lot. Two concerts will be given daily at the camp. One will be given in the afternoon at 2:30 and the other at 3:00 p. m. There will be no concerts on the streets.

There are 20 enlisted men comprising the band, five enlisted men of the construction division, Q. M. C., and five enlisted men in the motor transport corps. The equipment consists of five trucks with the displays, one touring car, two large staff observation cars, and one ambulance. Lieut. E. Lewis Field of the 32nd Infantry is in charge, assisted by Lieut. Barney Meeden, Q. M. C., and Lieut. Pembroke Brawner, 32nd Infantry.

The public is asked to attend and questions are invited as it is the desire of the War Department that the taxpayer should know what is being done for the betterment of the soldier in the army as it is being organized today.

AIRPLANE COSTUMES DESIGNED IN PARIS

PARIS, Jan. 13.—As the result of daily airplane service between Paris and London, as well as prospective airplane connections in the near future with all the leading European capitals, the designing of dainty airplane costumes has become one of the new tasks of Rue la Paix.

The models now being shown are composed largely of fur, are guaranteed to be cold proof and fog-proof—this for the English channel—and are made in such a manner that mids may climb in and out of an airplane easily.

Future airplane shows are expected to have a large section given over hereafter to these millinery creations for aerial travel. Some of the designs now being shown are so attractive that thousands of women who would previously have died of fright at the thought of a flight across the channel are now clamoring for places in order to have an excuse for wearing one of the new creations.

NEW AUDITORIUM TO COST ONE MILLION

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15.—Seventy-five leading architects in various parts of the United States today received telegraphic invitations to submit plans for a million dollar auditorium to take the place of the Shrine Auditorium destroyed by fire here Sunday.

The Shrine announced that they would build a structure which would seat 10,000 persons in the main auditorium and have a banquet hall seating 3,000.

THE LAST BUSHEL OR POUND

A great economist once said that the price of wheat throughout the world was determined by "the last bushel of wheat." If that last bushel was superfluous, people would not pay much for it, and so it automatically lowered the price of all the rest. If it was in demand, and eagerly bid for, it automatically raised the price of all the rest. It was an indicator of plenty or shortage, of a production exceeding the demand or a production falling short of the demand.

It might be said, in the same way, that the price of every pound of coffee or beef or butter is determined by the price of the last pound produced, and likewise of steel, leather, cotton, wool and every other commodity. It is surprising, too, how comparatively slight the margin is sometimes between plenty and scarcity. That theoretical "last bushel" or "last pound" is, of course, merely a figure of speech;
but the principle may be literally illustrated by a million bushels of wheat or a million pounds of butter or a million tons of steel.

At present the supply of commodities,
in nearly every line, is unequal to the demand. In only too many cases the deficit is due to preventable causes—especially to the failure of the industries concerned to do their best. This is acknowledged to be the most obvious cause of high prices today. Great as these deficits may appear, it is likely that many of them could be wiped out in a comparatively short time if all the people connected with them, hand-workers and brain workers alike, set about to produce to the limit of capacity.

Capacity production is what this country needs today more than anything else. Capacity production might, within a few months, bring the supply of large numbers of commodities up to equality with the demand, and thereby do far more for the reduction of the cost of living than can be done by all the debate, price-fixing, pay-raising and denouncing of profiteers.

REAL STATESMANSHIP

The peace treaty compromise which seems at last in process of accomplishment at Washington involves the sacrifice of personal desires and convictions on the part of many an honest senator. There is nothing, however, to be ashamed of in such a surrender of minor aims for the success of the main project. All popular government is effected by precisely such compromises. And for a compromise of this particular sort there is very good precedent.

The Constitution of the United States, as all students of history know, was fought over as long and bitterly as this League of Nations Covenant has been. Typical of the spirit in which the constitution was finally accepted was the conduct of Alexander Hamilton, one of the "bitter-enders" of that day.

The constitution as adopted was a frank compromise, all the way through. Hamilton did not like it.
But he acquiesced in the will of the majority, and put his name to it along with the rest. And having done so, as related by his biographer, Henry Cabot Lodge, "Hamilton gave his loyal adherence to the new constitution and the new system. Had he been an agitator or a sentimentalist of muddy morals and high purposes, a visionary and an idealist, he would have stood up and howled against this constitution, which was not what he wanted and which fell so far short of his own standard. As he was none of these things, but a patriotic man of clear and practical mind, he knew that the first rule of successful and beneficial statesmanship was not to sulk because one cannot have just what one wants, but to take the best thing obtainable and sustain it to the uttermost."

Let us hope that all the senators passing on this modern Constitution of Nations, and all others who have fought over it during the past year, will acquiesce in the same patriotic, sportsmanlike spirit.

FEET AND STARS

An astrologer stated the other day that better and more sensible footwear would be characteristic of 1920. It seems that when some planet or combination of planets was passing through the constellation Aquarius, which governs ankles, women began to wear short skirts and display ankles. Now this same planet is going to go through Pisces, which governs feet, and being a beneficently minded personality, it is going to save our pedal extremities.

Whether the astrologers really get these things from studying the stars, or whether they have a good
"feel" for the interpreting of news, is an open question with many people. Anyhow, the Y. W. C. A. and the largest women's magazines have come out for shoes designed to protect instead of deforming the human foot.

One of the most curious superstitions of perverted art is the belief that narrow, pointed, high-heeled shoes make women's feet beautiful.
The artist knows that inside such a shoe there always is a deformed, misshapen foot. Yet women, like ostriches, who with their heads hidden believe they are invisible, have continued to believe that if their foot-coverings were but "snappy" enough, no one knew the monstrosities of crookedness, bad arches, corns and bunions they covered.

The women who served on war committees, at home or overseas, which necessitated uniforms with their trim, good-looking, well-shaped shoes, have been unwilling to go back to their old "pedal prison-houses."

One reason why sensible shoes, like sensible dresses, have failed to "take" with women has been that they were ugly. People failed to realize that beauty and comfort ought to go hand in hand. But a newer feeling is now coming over the nation as a whole. It is an attitude of release from old binding conditions, a strongly concentrated current of thought in the direction of freedom. That there is an astro-logic basis for this has also been stated. This we know—if the stars can give human kind such shoes as will enable them to walk and stand in comfort, to look trim and smart at the same time, then blessed be the stars.

Hunger Scourged
Long Beach Press

Millions in Eastern Europe this winter are fighting a grim battle with the grimest terrors that beset the human race—hunger and cold.
The great war ended, as to fighting, more than a year ago. But the period that has lapsed since the signing of the armistice has not sufficed for the stricken peoples of the eastern portion of the war zone to get on their feet and become self-sustaining. Throughout Austria, in particular, there is widespread distress. Death by hunger and freezing is abroad in that land, already desolated by five years of warfare.
Vienna, from the gayest of capitals, has been reduced to a pitifully tragic state.

Destiny, it seems, wielding the sword of retribution is calling the once proud empire which arrogantly and brutally pounced upon Serbia in 1914 and precipitated the world war, to drink the cup of misery and death to the dregs. Never has a nation been punished more severely than has Austria. Its pride is in the dust.
Its power is shattered. Its empire is broken to bits. It stands today a "ghost of departed glory." It is a dreadful fate. Worst of all, the innocent are victims. Women and children, in vast numbers, are perishing for lack of nourishment and from freezing weather with a famine in fuel.

Pacific Ship Lines
Long Beach Press

Of the three terminals that are to be established on the Pacific coast for the three great trans-Pacific commercial shipping lines to be instituted within a few months, two probably will be California ports—Los Angeles and San Francisco. The Federal Shipping Board is to effect the formulation of this service and its permanency is assured. The three routes are: To China, Japan and the Philippines; to China, Japan and Vladivostok; to China, the Straits Settlement and India.
While the port terminals on this coast have not been named definitely, yet the belief in Washington is that Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle will be designated.
A formidable array of big vessels will be put into this trans-Pacific service, and systematic efforts will be made, in the orient, to develop overseas business for these carrying routes.
Long Beach, ere long, will have in its offing, giant ships sailing at regular, frequent intervals for the Far East or arriving therefrom. And here, within sight of Long Beach and at its very doors, may be witnessed the fascinating scene of the development of a vastly important overseas commerce, in the benefits of which this city will share generously.

The Big Issue

The clash between President
Wilson and William Jennings Bryan before the Democratic National committee expresses not only the difference in the character of the two men, but the differences in the attitude of the people in the United States on what is the greatest problem in the world today. It is not partisan in the way in which we have been accustomed to using that word for fifty years. President Wilson is on one hand and Senator Johnson on the other may not be able to make it partisan in the present campaign. But it is the all-touching problem at the present time. The war has made the world small. Shall we, the greatest nation in the world, recognize that we are a part of it, or shut our eyes to the fact?
Shall we admit issue-dodging provincialism or shall we have the courage to face this issue and all others. This will be decided in one way or another, within the next few months. It may be decided slowly. It may not be decided at the polls, this coming November, as President Wilson now demands; though that would now be the most explicit way to do it. But it must be decided. On this issue, all candidates for the right to act as national attorney-infact of the American people, must express themselves. Let us have it out.

The position taken by Bryan
in opposition to the President on the question of party policy need not seriously concern us.
It is not, strictly speaking, necessary, now that the Senate of the United States has rejected the treaty once, for formally of peace to await action at the polls next November. Bryan assumes that Wilson is proposing that the treaty of peace awaits the referendum of the nation on the world league. It is an unfortunate vagueness in the statement of the President that he does not admit that the peace treaty will probably be approved formally in one way or another now by Congress, and that the nation will be put formally on a peace basis. But this will not solve the problem presented by Wilson and dodged
by Bryan. Is the United States to be part of the world, or is it not? The differences that have divided the President and Without a world league, the attempt of the United States to deal with the red revolutionists will fail. Without a world league, the attempt of the United States to solve the problem of Asiatic intrusion will be almost hopeless. Without the world league, any hope of adjusting the financial disproportion between the United States as a creditor nation and Europe as a debtor area will be almost impossible. Without the world league, the Monroe Doctrine will be nullified by a commercial unity between South America and Europe from which the United States will be quickly excluded. Without the world league, the United States will have as its sole political associates outside the league, divided and discredited Germany and nevery-stricken and suicidal Russia. The policy of splendid isolation was fine in a world divided into various groups. Is it fine in a world that contains but one group, even though that group may be considered still in the experimental stage?

MY SONG
All day long I hear a song.
But nobody sings it;
The light is in it, and a breeze;
The butterflies and bumble bees.
The red buds on the maple trees.
All belong to my song,
But nobody sings it.
All night long I hear a song.
But nobody knows it;
The dark is in it, and a dream;
A fairy with a firefly team.
A dancing star and a long moonbeam.
All belong to my song,
But nobody knows it.

NATIONAL BLUE SKY
BILL GIVEN SENATE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 — A national blue-sky law aimed at fake stock promotion schemes was introduced in the Senate today by Senator Kenyon of Iowa. The bill provides that each concern in interstate commerce shall file a public statement with the postmaster at its legal address showing promotion fees paid, names of underwriters, amounts charged off to good will,
and the purpose for which the money is to be used.
Mis-statements make the signers liable to prosecution for perjury.

Caught On First Bounce
By S. E. Greene

A youthful burglar at Long Beach had a diary in his pocket, in which he had recorded his thievery as he had performed them. Perhaps some one had given him the diary for Christmas, and he thought of course
he had to use it.

Santa Barbara folks inaugurated a grand New Year's Day swim this year, and they enjoyed it so much that many of them have determined to take a bath every year.

Down at El Centro, says the Progress, an investigation was made as to the use of silk hosiery as compared with other kinds. In an effort to determine the causes of part of the high cost of living, it was found that comparatively few men wore silk hose, but that practically all women, rich and poor, proud and humble, wore them. How did they determine who was to be the lucky man to take the hosiery census, is what we are curious to know.

The Imperial Valley came up and took one look at the Tournament parade at Pasadena on New Year's Day, and the boys and made up their mind to send a float for the parade next year and take first prize.

Thirty-five chickens from one flock were poisoned at Santa Maria the other day by eating home-canned string beans thrown out by a neighbor who found they didn't taste just right. We always thought that chickens didn't know beans.

Printers are getting so scarce, and so few boys are learning the trade, that if the schools don't soon add printing to the back-splashing and cobbling and other high arts that they are teaching, they will find that they will also have to omit geography and spelling and arithmetic and other light sports from their course of study, because there won't be anybody left to print the text books.

A San Francisco paper, in striving to alarm the coast on the Japanese peril, publishes the startling statement that during the past year 35 Japanese mothers have given birth to 121 children. That is what might be termed going some, either for the mothers or for the newspaper.

In one of the putrid divorce cases for which Los Angeles is famous, the husband accused his wife of sitting on the ice box and spooning with the ice man. But he should cheer up. A Los Angeles inventor, the same week announced the invention of a preserving method which will do away with ice, which would in turn do away with ice boxes, and that would open the way for the husband to win back his wife's affection, for she would then not be able to sit on the ice box and spoon with the ice man. If that won't cheer the poor fellow up, we give up.

An editor down the coast took advantage of the alleged end of the world scheduled for a few weeks ago by publishing a request for all subscribers to please settle up before the end came, as he didn't want to have to chase all over hell looking for the fellows who owed him two dollars apiece.

Down at La Jolla, (which isn't pronounced La Jolla at all, but La Jolla)
there is a grove of rare trees known as Torrey Pines, and they are protected by city ordinance against harm or disfigurement. One provision of the ordinance prohibits trans-planting, but the other day an innocent admirer of the trees dug up a little one and set it out in his yard.
The officers of the law made him dig it up again and put it back in its little home hole, where he has to water it once a week, and if it dies
he will have to pay a heavy fine.
Wish we could hide behind a tree somewhere near and "hug" what he says under his breath every time he has to water the little fool thing.

A Los Angeles woman claims she is 119 years old. As her parents are dead, and her grand-parents are also deceased, there is no way to dis-prove her claim, so she wins on the same basis that Mark Twain said proved the location of the grave of Adam, because nobody could prove that it wasn't.

Income Tax Facts
You Should Know

This is one of a series of authoritative articles prepared by the bureau of internal revenue at Washington, D. C. They are of informative value to every single person in the United States whose net income for 1919 was $1000 or more and every married person and head of a family whose net income was $2000 or more. The taxpayer is told how to make out his income-tax form, when and where to file it, and when and where to pay the tax. Deductions and exemptions to which the taxpayer is entitled are shown, and special attention directed to changes in the rates.

(ARTICLE NO. 2.)
In making out his income tax return the taxpayer is required to show both gross and net income.
Gross income includes practically every dollar the taxpayer received during the year 1919. In arriving at net income, upon which the tax is assessed, he is allowed certain deductions, which will be explained later, plus the amount of his exemption.

Incomes below $5000 are exempt from surtax. The single man with no dependents and an income for 1919 of $2000 will pay a tax of $40 instead of $80 as for 1918, and a married man with an income of $3500 and no dependents except his wife will pay $20 instead of $30.

Surtax Rates.
The surtax rate is 1 per cent on the net income in excess of $5000 and not over $6000, and increases by steps of 1 per cent for each $2000 of net income up to and including 48 per cent on net income in excess of $98,000 and not over $100,000. From this point the rate runs as follows: Fifty per cent on net income over $100,000 and not over $150,000, 55 per cent on net income over $150,000 and not over $200,000, 60 per cent on net income over $200,000 and not over $300,000, 63 per cent on net income over $300,000 and not over $500,000, 64
per cent on net income over $500,
000 and not over $1,000,000, and 65
per cent on net income over $1, 000,000.

THE successful farmer raises bigger crops and cuts down costs by investment in labor-saving machinery.
Good prices for the farmer's crops encourage new investment, more production and greater prosperity.
But the success of agriculture depends on the growth of railroads—the modern beasts of burden that haul the crops to the world's markets.
The railroads—like farms—increase their output and cut down unit costs by the constant investment of new capital.
With fair prices for the work they do,
the railroads are able to attract new capital for expanding their facilities.
Rates high enough to yield a fair return will insure railroad growth, and prevent costly traffic congestion which invariably results in poorer service at higher cost.
National wealth can increase only as our railroads grow.
Poor railroad service is dear at any price.
No growing country can long pay the price of inadequate transportation facilities.

Old Officers Retire.
The last meeting of the Daughters of Veterans with the old officers in the chairs was held Monday afternoon in G. A. R. hall. The installation of new officers will be held Wednesday night, Jan. 21.

There were twenty-nine old members and one new one, Mrs. Theo Sammis being initiated, with impressive ceremony.

Yearly reports of officers were made and a splendid year's work has been done.

Mrs. Eva Bell gave a very lively and interesting account of her trip to San Diego, where she installed new officers for that Tent. Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Eva Gage, Department Patriotic Instructor, were shown many courtesies both by land and boat in the Southern County.

The meeting time of the Daughters has been changed to one in the afternoon and one in the evening the last Monday in each month. It is the hope that the Sons and Daughters will both be benefitted by this change.

Celebrate Three Birthdays

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marsile, East Seventeenth street, entertained with a delicious turkey birthday dinner, honoring the birthdays of Mrs. Floyd Turner, Mrs. Elmer Bggs and Mrs. Fred Marsile.

Red carnations centered the table upon which a sumptuous turkey dinner was served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bggs, Mr. and Mrs. Will De Vinney, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bggs, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Marsile, Miss Myrtle North of Los Angeles, Martin Bggs, Martin O'Meara, A. P. Marsile and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Marsile.

Interesting Missionary Meeting

The Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church will hold its first regular monthly meeting of the year Wednesday at 2 p. m. An interesting program has been prepared.

Mrs. F. W. Wales of Los Angeles, the key woman of the jubilee program, will give an address.

The Sixth Section, Household Economics of the Ebell Society, which was to be held next Friday, January 16, has been postponed one week on account of the illness of one of the committee.

McKinley P. T. A. to Meet

The McKinley P. T. A. will meet Thursday at 2:30 p. m. All interested in child welfare are cordially invited to attend. The "fathers' meeting" has been postponed.

Married at San Diego

Many of the friends of Lloyd Enoch, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Enoch, now of Orange, was married Wednesday, January 7, in San Diego, to Miss Fannie Stricker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stricker of North Olive street, Orange.

Mr. and Mrs. Enoch will make their home in San Diego, where the good wishes of their many friends follow them.

Noted Tenor to Sing

The Musical Association board of directors has been very fortunate in securing the well known tenor, Harold Proctor, for its January program, date of which will be announced very soon.

Mr. Proctor will be remembered by many as the soloist of the 1918 Christmas Community Song Service at Birch Park. His beautiful voice and remarkable enunciation contributed greatly to the success of that occasion and no doubt a packed house will greet his appearance in regular recital before the association.

Enjoy Dinner at Orange

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Atwood of Los Angeles spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Rogers, 1010 Ross street. They accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Rogers to the N. T. Edwards' home in Orange, where they were all invited to a turkey dinner Sunday.

While dinner was being served, the secret was brought out that it was Mr. Atwood's birthday. Other members of the dinner party were: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Edwards and little daughter, Nettie, of Westminster, and the hosts and their son, Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Edwards, and Nelson Edwards, who is attending U. S. C.

Victrola music, social conversation and "joy" riding filled the afternoon with pleasure, the members of the party, excepting Mr. and Mrs. Atwood, who returned to Los Angeles, remaining to tea. Mrs. P. W. Morrison, an "old-time" friend of Mr. and Mrs. Atwood, called during the afternoon and pleasant memories were recalled.

Pleasant Day at Newport

A happy day was spent at Newport Beach yesterday at the "Kilcare Cottage," when Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown of Calgary, Canada, came over from Long Beach and later in the day when the McKim family and Miss Daisy Palmer of this city motored down and surprised Mrs. Dawes, Miss Rosalyn Dawes and Miss Leta Morton, who are sojourning at Newport for a few weeks.

A bountiful fish dinner was enjoyed by all.

NIGHTS MARDI GRAS

Night is the true democracy. When day Like some great monarch with his train has passed, In regal pomp and splendor to the last, The stars troop forth along the Milky Way, A jostling crowd in radiant array, On heaven's broad boulevard in pageant's vast, And things of earth, the haunted and outcast, Come from their haunts and hiding-places; yea, Even the nooks and crannies of the mind Visions uncouth and vagrant fancies start, And specters of dead joy, that shun the light, And impotent regrets and terrors blind, Each one, in form grotesque, playing its part In the fantastic Mardi Gras of Night. —Edward J. Wheeler.

THIS JUSTICE TIRED OF NO SALARY OFFICE

PLEASANTVILLE, N. Y., Jan. 13 —Getting justice for nothing has become such a habit here that the village trustees lately laid on the table a request of Judge James Moore that he be paid $500 a year. The judge has meted out justice in the local court for over twelve years, and has never been paid a cent. He points out that the prices of stationery and other things have gone up so rapidly that he believes he is entitled to a little something besides his title.

YOU WOULDN'T TRY TO TAME A WILD-CAT

Mr. Dodson Warns Against Use of Treacherous, Dangerous Calomel.

Calomel salivates. It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crumbles into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your drugist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.—Adv.

HARD CIDER BANNED

BEARDSTOWN, Ill., Jan. 13.—This Illinois city is as dry as the Sahara desert. Take it from the citizens. Before the enforcement of prohibition came Beardstown was one of the few cities in the state where alcoholic stimulants could be purchased over a real mahogany bar without fear of contradicting the law. Now it is so "prohibition" you can not even buy "hard cider," as the sale of that stuff has just been banned by the authorities.

H. C. L. SERMON SUBJECT FOR REVIVALIST

"The High Cost of Living" was the subject chosen by Rev. J. Q. A. Henry for his sermon last night in the series of revival meetings being held at the First Baptist church, and he dealt with the subject from the standpoint of the price God paid by sending his Son to open the way from earth to heaven.

There was a large attendance and there were several confessions. There will be services tonight at 7 o'clock, when his subject will be "Short Beds and Narrow Covers."

Meetings will be held tomorrow at 3 and 7 p. m. The afternoon subject will be "The Full Blessings of Pentecost," and the evening will be, "The Courage of a Coward."

Rev. Henry's text last night was taken from Matthew 20-28. Among other things he said:

"Loving is Life, and every man's life is great just in proportion to the number of bright and beautiful and worthy things that he loves. Love costs. It is an interchange of gifts, labor and life itself. God is love and his love cost the gift of his Son to secure the salvation of man."

The text strikingly illustrated what it cost Christ to open up a new and loving way from earth to heaven. This is one of the great texts of the Bible and indicates the blood red path over which Christ traveled all the way from manger to the throne. We can appreciate the significance of this wonderful word of God only as we think of the great servant, the great service which he rendered the great substitutionary sacrifice including life itself, which he gladly paid that we might not perish, but have everlasting life.

The text illustrated the perfect pattern for Christian service and the simple plan of salvation; God's love found its uttermost expression in the gift of Christ to die for us and true discipleship consists in giving the very best which we have to God and His work in the world.

"This passage marks the blood red path of redemption. Try to imagine how impoverished the Bible would be without this truth. The character of the One who became the servant of all, making a greater sacrifice than any human being of the highest position who does anything for the lowly," said the evangelist.

"Christ's service in His passion for the lost was that of a bond-slave. He gave Himself fully to the task. His ministry led on to redeeming the lost at the cost of His own blood. All the suffering of Christ was that of a substitute. He suffered, the just for the unjust, that He might bring us to God. Him, who knew no sin, was made to besin on our behalf that we might become the righteousness of God in Him. He took our place. He took the sting of death for all, and the mother of that of the bee for her little girl. This great truth makes it possible for all to take salvation. Your sin was laid on Jesus, so you cannot suffer for it, if you believe in Him."

Older Children, Too, Are in Need of Chances in Life

WHEN a couple undertake to adopt and raise a child they prefer that the child be a babe in arms or at least well under 5 years of age. There are exceptions, of course, for occasionally a couple is found who want an older child.

These are the declarations made by A. H. Gunnett, field superintendent of the Children's Home Finding Society of California.

"We have requests for a great many babies than we have babies," said Gunnett. "We have a stack of applications on file awaiting turns for babies. On the other hand we have twenty boys and girls between 5 and 12 years of age for whom we have been unable to find homes. They are most of them highly fine children, too, and they deserve just as much of a chance as the wee tots. These children are at our headquarters at 2414 Griffith avenue, Los Angeles."

This society has done a great work, and is doing and will continue to do great work in the salvaging of little folk. It takes the deserted child and finds a good home for him.

There are sixty or seventy men and women of Santa Ana who contribute annually to the work of the society. Annual pledges, even if for only $1 a year, will be acceptable. Anyone desiring to contribute or anyone interested in the adoption of a child can get that information to the field superintendent by calling his brother, J. M. Gunnett, at the sheriff's office.

Why Not Wear a Tailor Made Suit?

It takes a pretty well built suit to withstand the activities of the average man.

Our suits are made to your measure — they will fit you perfectly—because the workmanship and materials are of the best quality.

Just stop and think what it means to you to have a perfect fitting suit—a suit made to your exact measure. It means clothes satisfaction.

We are showing a very large variety of the newest fabrics—some in fancy weaves for the young man—also the conservative shades—Blacks, Blues, Greys.

You will be surprised at the reasonable prices we are asking for "made to order" suits. They are no higher than you would expect to pay for a "ready made" in the majority of stores.

OPERATORS TO ACCEPT AWARD OF COAL BOARD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Coal operators today agreed to unqualified acceptance of any award made by President Wilson's coal commission, appointed to bring about a permanent settlement of the controversy between miners and operators.

The operators also have agreed to accept price fixing of coal with the exception that such prices should not exist after expiration of the Lever law. The commission accepted this reservation. When the commission opened its inquiry yesterday the operators presented a set of reservations in form of questions which they demanded be answered before they would agree to accept the commission's award. They modified their position today. The miners have already agreed to accept the award.

BELL-ANS FOR INDIGESTION

MOTHER OF J. A. MCFADDEN DEAD AT SAN JOSE

Santa Anas today are mourning the loss of another of the old pioneers of this section. Mrs. Betty McFadden died yesterday at her home in San Jose, aged 78 years. She was the widow of the late Archie McFadden and mother of John A. McFadden, this city; William McFadden, Brawley; Miss Jeannette McFadden, librarian, of this city; Miss Effie McFadden, a teacher in the normal school at San Francisco, and Miss Elizabeth McFadden, an instructor in the normal at San Jose. She had been ill for a few days and the first intimation to her son and daughter here of her serious illness came yesterday morning in a telegram. The son left for San Jose yesterday morning and the daughter last night. News of the death came last night in a telegram to Mrs. John McFadden. The body will be brought here for interment, but the date of the funeral probably will not be set until the body and children arrive here.

Mrs. McFadden left here in September to make her home with her daughter in San Jose, and only a week ago moved into a handsome new home in that city. The cause of death is not known here.

Her husband preceded her to the grave by about eight years. He was a brother of James, John and Robert McFadden, the latter being the only one of the brothers surviving today.

Mrs. McFadden came to Southern California with her husband in 1875 and located in this district, her husband joining his brothers here. It was in 1889 that the family located at 704 South Lyon street, and here they continued their residence until after the death of Mr. McFadden, a few years ago.

Mrs. McFadden was identified with the United Presbyterian church and was active in its circles and generous in its financial support. Her's was a wonderful experience in seeing the development of the lands of tall mustards, swamps, cactus and brush to the rich and productive lands of today.

JAPS GIVE HERRICK SET OF GOLD CUPS

CLEVELAND, Jan. 13.—Myron T. Herrick, former Ambassador to France, has been presented with a set of gold cups by the Emperor of Japan in recognition of the services rendered the Japanese Government by the former Ambassador, who took charge of Japanese affairs in France when the European war began. The gift came through the State Department.

RECRUITING TRUCK TRAIN GETS HERE

This morning a recruiting truck train sent out from army headquarters in San Diego arrived in Santa Ana and located itself in the vacant lot at the northeast corner of Fifth and Bush streets.

The train consists of about a dozen trucks, bearing exhibits of various kinds depicting the different lines of work that are done in the army and showing opportunities for education offered by the army.

For instance, one truck carries a large amount of electrical apparatus and another a lot of construction materials and exhibits.

The purpose of the train is primarily to secure recruits for the army, but along with it goes the educational feature that is aimed to show the public a few little noticed features of army work.

DRUNKEN GALBRETH NOT FURNITURE MAN

John Galbreth, formerly with the Chandler Furniture Company, and recently removed to Los Angeles, is not the John Galbreth who was arrested here Sunday on a charge of drunkenness. The latter is a farm hand and came to Santa Ana to go to the San Joaquin ranch. Having the same name, and the fact that he recently had removed to Los Angeles, friends of the furniture men make the explanation so that his friends will not have the impression that he was the man who was taken into custody.

Lyman K. Swenson, U. S. N.

Von Brincken served a sentence in McNeil's Island prison for a violation of the American neutrality laws. Deportation proceedings are being pressed against him.

EXPECTS DRIVE TO BRING IT NEW HOME

In March of April, citizens of this community are to be asked for at least $12,000 with which to make possible the construction of a $24,000 building for the Salvation Army on its lot on Sycamore street between Second and Third streets.

Capt. Fritz Schute, head of the Salvation Army here, has two sets of plans, one of which will likely be selected as the plans for the structure. It is estimated that it will take $24,000 to build under either set of plans.

Under one set of plans there will be a basement in which a room 25 by 48 feet is located. This room will be used for gymnasium purposes during the week and for Sunday school on Sundays. Sunday school classrooms, shower baths and a kitchen are also located in the basement. This plan calls for an auditorium with a seating capacity of 350, on the first floor. At the front are an employment office and reading room and an office room. On the second floor are four bedrooms, a dining-room, kitchen, living-room and club-room.

The second set of plans, drawn in San Francisco, has no basement. The number of rooms provided for is about the same as in the first set of plans, drawn at Capt. Schute's suggestion. In the San Francisco plan the gymnasium room and its auxiliary rooms are located at the rear of the lot on the first floor instead of in the basement.

"It is my hope to have the drive for funds as soon as possible," said Capt. Schute today. "We are in sore need for the building right now." We would like to raise the entire $24,000. If we can get half of that amount, we can build."

IMPERIAL, Jan. 13.—Imperial Valley muskrat trappers are making money this year, according to W. N. Morrison who reports that his catch last week brought $194, besides $30 in bounties paid by the water company. He is shipping the furs to buyers in St. Louis, who are paying nearly twice as much as last year.

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 13.—Central California oranges may be, in the near future, largely shipped to the eastern seaboard via the Panama canal. It became known here that officials of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange are conferring with steamship owners for a contract agreement under the terms of which special orange refrigerator boats will be constructed for regular trips to New York.

LONG BEACH, Jan. 13.—Good reports of the past year's work and optimistic statements of future prospects marked the annual meeting and banquet of the local Y. M. C. A. last night at the Congregational church. Guests of honor were members of this city's championship high school football team. Reports were given by R. H. Gosson, general secretary; W. M. Cook, treasurer and R. C. Lewis.

EL CENTRO, Jan. 13.—Speculation is being caused by the act of the War Department, in preparing to move the airplane base for guarding the border from Calexico to El Centro. The motive that lies behind this move is believed to be fully understood, it being desired to get the base back far enough from the border to present a surprise attack.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—A swarm of bees got drunk yesterday on the Ridge Route on the road to Newhall, just a half mile from the city limits, according to a report to the sheriff's office by Deputy Sheriff Kennedy and Nelson. They stated that when they found a truck load of wine, all smashed up and the swarms of bees slipping the wine. The bees tumbled and couldn't do anything they said. So nobody got stung.

ONTARIO, Jan. 13.—Following the appearance of Ray L. During the four days of the convention plans will be made for the raising of $100,000,000 for reconstruction and the inter-church movement. The main business program will be taken up Wednesday.

LONG BEACH, Jan. 13.—A building permit for $50,000 worth of alterations in the theatre in the Markwell Building, now nearing completion, was issued yesterday. Enlargement and enhanced decorative features have been determined upon, following the recent leasing of this theatre for twenty years to Ackerman & Harris at a figure said to approximate $750,000.

MANY ATHLETES ADDING TO LAURELS

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Frank Merriwell could "run the hundred in nine flat." He could strike out twenty-seven men. He could score a touchdown a minute. And he could do lots of wonderful things.

But Frank was a story book boy. There are some boys striving for diplomas this year, however, that have the versatility of a Merriwell in a less exaggerated degree.

"Tubby" Clark of Harvard is one of the best known all-around athletes. He won his wreath of laurels on the gridiron full when he put his 220 pounds in the way of Jim Braden and hurled the Yale charger back after a fruitless assault for a touch-down on Harvard's one-yard line.

Clark has aspiration to become one of "those rare birds," a four-letter man. He is going out for baseball this spring and if he lands the pitching job he will have won his fourth letter. He puts the shot on the track team, is captain of the hockey team, plays guard on the eleven and is a clever pitcher.

Chic Harley, the brightest football star of the West, is another who lists his accomplishments in fours. Harley twice has made the backfield of the all-American. He steps the 100 yards around 10 seconds, is a star on the basketball five of Ohio State and is an outfielder good enough to be offered a job by Joe Tinker, president of the Columbus American Association team.

"Big Bill" Rodgers, all-American full-back, the biggest point scorer of the year and the mainspring of the West Virginia eleven, is also a track man and an able ball player. He turned down the offers of several major league scouts last fall and decided to pursue his studies in chemistry.

Pearce Has Trouble
Pard Pearce, star half-back of the Pennsylvania eleven, is such a good baseball player that it got him in trouble. He assumed the name of Dwyer and went out in the Three-leaves last summer and signed up with the Cubs, with whom he is going to play next season. He was declared ineligible for the Cornell game and was refused a letter when Penn officials learned of it.

Maury Trimble, the football star of Princeton, plays basketball, catches on the nine and does track work in addition to most everything on the gridiron.

Other good all-around men are: Murphy, Dartmouth, football, pitcher and weight thrower.

Herrington, Lehigh, football, high jumper and catcher.

Hastings, Pittsburg, half-back and shortstop.

Thorne Murphy, Yale, quarterback, star drop-kicker and shortstop.

McNichol, Penn. half-back, basketball and baseball.

Brunner, Penn. football, basketball and baseball.

Felton, Harvard, quarterback and pitcher.

Strubing, Princeton, quarterback and outfielder.

Cann, N. Y. U., football, basketball, track and swimming.

Korey, N. Y. U., football and basketball.

Quigley, Columbia, football, basketball and baseball.

Higgins, Penn State, All-American end and wrestling.

Braden, Yale, fullback and track.

Boynston, Williams, quarterback and track.

Kearns Puts Battle Business Right Up To French Champion

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—Jack Kearns has put everything up to Carpenter.

He says he is ready to talk business with anyone who can produce Carpenter's signature, but it is rather idle to talk fight unless Carpenter is willing. Kearns, it appears, takes two to make a real good scrap.

"We just chatted and talked," Kearns said when asked what developed at his conference with Tim O'Hara and G. Bryan yesterday, who came here to represent Dominick Tortorich of New Orleans.

Kearns said that when Dempsey is through making pictures, which will be in about two months, he'll offer a match to Mike Moran, Willie Meahan or some other likely aspirant if Carpenter isn't ready to go into the ring.

The Advertisements Have Something to Say to You

If a merchant or manufacturer could gather 5000 or 10,000 or 100,000 prospective buyers into a large auditorium and talk to them daily—by word of mouth—he would have no need of advertisements. BUT HE CANNOT.

So he put his words in type and talks to these same prospective buyers each day in the printed messages that you know as advertisements.

In this newspaper today you will find many such personal messages from merchants and manufacturers.

Some are large and some are small. They cover a wide range of subjects. They are worthy of your careful reading.

No merchant or manufacturer would spend his good money advertising if his merchandise were not of good quality and fairly priced. It wouldn't pay!

Main Street High Power Line To Be Moved By P. E.

ALLEY PAVING IS DIRECTED BY COUNCIL AT MEETING

Unsanitary Condition and Fire Hazards Cause Action by Body

The city engineer and city attorney are today under direction to prepare the papers necessary for the improvement of the alley running from Broadway to French, between Fourth and Third streets, the improvement to consist of new surfacing where necessary and new base where it is needed.

The statement of Deputy Health Officer W. W. Chandler to the city council last night that the alley is in bad condition and in certain blocks very unsanitary together with the fire hazards obtaining, brought action by the council in ordering the work done.

Tubbs and Greenleaf were appointed a committee to look into the opening of the alley between Broadway and Birch street, through the Gilman and other properties. The alley is partly opened now, but has never been dedicated to the city. Attempt will be made to cause the removal of part of an old building in the alley in the latter block, so as to reduce the fire risk in that block, regardless of whether or not the alley is opened clear through.

Condition of Second Street
The condition of rock and paving on West Second street was again before the board last night, with a few of the property owners in the 800 and 1000 blocks present. The pavement is breaking up by reason of the fact that it was put down while the road was damp and because of the character of the soil. The soil did not solidify under the heavy roller, with the result that since the pavement was laid, the base has settled and the pavement broken at such place by traffic. The 800 and 1000 blocks are affected the rest of the street being all right.

The council as a committee of the whole inspected the three blocks and last night decided that it would not accept it until defects were repaired and the street made satisfactory. With Wells & Bressler very willing to make good any defects, a long discussion centered about a just method of handling payment for the work.

To be effective, the repairs should not be made until the latter part of summer, after the roadbed has had time in which to dry out thoroughly. Property owners present expressed a willingness to pay the contractors 50 or 75 per cent of the cost of the work in the three blocks affected, holding back the balance until the street is accepted.

Should Avoid Trouble
With rapid changes in ownership of property taking place now, Geo. R. Wells, speaking for his firm, said that he thought some plan should be developed so that the full amount might be paid to avoid possible trouble in change of ownership of lots that might be made before the work is completed, which work may be done in six or seven months from now, the company putting up a bond to insure execution of work.

The matter finally when the property owners and contractors may develop a plan for handling the financial feature that will be satisfactory to all concerned.

The experience on the street has been one of importance to both the contractors and the city council, for it has been determined the inadvisability of putting down rock and oil paving in a rainy period.

To Enforce Parking Rules
The police commission was directed to proceed at once with enforcement of the regulations governing parking in the district covered by an ordinance recently passed. Painting of stalls on all the streets has been completed. The police department will conduct a campaign of education for a time, and then will commence to make arrests for violations. Strangers driving into the city and violating the ordinance will be dealt with kindly and will be warned instead of arrested, because they may not be familiar with the rules.

Council Notes

Permission to rewire an electric sign at 410 North Main street was given the J. G. Robertson Co.

A check for $224.59 as final franchise tax payment for the P. E. franchisees in the city was received.

The street superintendent was directed to notify property owners to remove a fence that has been built across Fifteenth street on Sycamore. W. J. Leiser was before the board to ask its removal, it being his intention to build a residence on Sycamore. The fence is across the street at the rear of the Andrew Getty property, now owned by Mrs. Charlie Montgomery. It is not known who was responsible for the erection of the fence, put up some eighteen months or two years ago.

A fire alarm box at the corner of Seventeenth and Main streets was ordered moved to the corner of 4th and Santa Fe streets, to serve the Santa Ana Walnut Association and other packing houses east of the tracks. The box at the corner of Fourth and Baker was ordered moved to Birch and Third. Both removals will be under the direction of the city electrician.

The committee on the paving of Palm avenue from Wright to Mabury street asked for more time, Greenleaf and Chapman form the committee.

Santa Ana to Be Greatly Benefited by Striking of Oil and Gas at Beaches

THE strike of the Interstate Oil Company on the Newport mesa is of vast interest and importance to Santa Ana, for with the indicated opening up of a vast new oil field south of the city, and its close proximity to the city, will result in centralization of the business of that district in Santa Ana. The announcement in the Register of yesterday of the finding of oil by the Interstate was obtained from a reliable source, and today there is considerable excitement in the territory in which the company is operating.

Work on the Standard Oil well at Huntington Beach and the statement of an expert oil man, as related in appended newspaper articles, tend to support the belief that big things in an oil way are developing in the sections to the south and west of Santa Ana.

People of all parts of the county who have given oil leases on property will be unusually interested in the result, a suit filed by W. T. Newland of Huntington Beach to cancel a lease he has given. The suit is to compel the lessee either to start drilling at once or forfeit the contract.

Reports from Huntington Beach today are to the effect that the Standard has encountered gas in its well. The following article from the Huntington Beach News was based on conditions at the well last Wednesday or Thursday:

Much Progress Made at Huntington No. 1 Well During Week

Huntington Beach News: More progress has been made in Huntington No. 1 well the past week than in the two previous weeks, and the drill today is in a soft blue shale about 1500 feet, below the surface.

The report last week showed a little over 700 feet of hole and the drill was then in this soft shale which is, as the men in charge call, "easy diggin'".

The report on the depth this week is not as accurate as was that of last week when the "stands" of casing were counted when a bit was being changed. A representative of the News was at the well all the forenoon Thursday, but the "diggin'" was so easy that there was no occasion to change bits, although one stop was made for adding four joints, known as a "stand" of casing, and there was no chance to estimate the depth in that way as was done last week.

There are various reports about the depth of the hole, varying from 1100 to 2500 feet, depending entirely with whom one talks, as there are about as many depths for the well as there are persons who are attempting to keep posted on the situation. However, it is believed that 1500 feet is not far from the true depth of the hole, which is about what was anticipated last week. So far as known there are no definite indications of oil, although blue shale, such as being passed through is ordinarily considered as being favorable. No gas, that is enough to make a showing through the thick mud that fills the hole, has been encountered, so far as known.

Expect Oil or Gas
There are some who have imagined that gas would be found at about the depth the drill is now boring, and also that some very good signs of oil would also begin to show up.

Ten-inch casing is being hauled in to the well, and it is believed that as soon as the casing is placed in the hole, and drilling will then continue with cable tools, the rig being a combination equipment, so that the change will not require very much time.

No new leases have been reported during the past week. The only news in this line is the fact that W. T. Newland, the first man to sign a lease, except the representatives of the Huntington Beach Co., has filed suit in the superior court in Santa Ana to have the lease cancelled and title to his land cleared. City Attorney Lewis W. Blodgett and his brother, Rush M. Blodgett, of Los Angeles, represent Mr. Newland in the action. The suit is to compel the lessee to either start drilling operations at once or forfeit the contract.

MORE MEN THAN JOBS IS FRESNO'S REPORT
FRESNO, Jan. 13.—Labor conditions in Fresno have undergone a change in the past two weeks, according to advices received from W. G. Maas, manager of the local public employment office. He asserts that there are now more men than jobs in every line, whereas up to a few weeks ago the bureau was unable to satisfy industrial employees. There is an especially large number of men seeking work among pruners and teamsters, states Maas. He believes this to be due to the lack of rains, as ranchers are putting off all their work until the ground can be worked with greater ease. The unusual dry season does not apply to the pruning situation, and Maas is unable to account for the number of men following this vocation being out of employment.

A total of 1186 men and women were placed by the Fresno office during the past month, which swells the fiscal year's total, which began on July 1, to 10,684. This fact is given in the monthly statement by the San Francisco bureau, which further points out that San Francisco, Oakland and Los Angeles are the only three cities in the state that have done a larger business than the Fresno office.

BLIND PIG NOW RARE ANIMAL IN COUNTY AND CITY

Species Is Already Practically Extinct, Say Jackson and Jernigan

The blind pig, long a wary animal and hard to catch, is already rare in Orange county, and it won't be long until the species is practically extinct. January 16, the day that the national constitutional amendment goes into effect, is going to mark another milestone in the annihilation of John Barleycorn and his family.

"Orange county is drier today than it has ever been," said Sheriff Jackson today.

"Santa Ana is drier today than it has ever been," stated City Marshal Jernigan.

The business of selling liquor illegally has been on the toboggan ever since national prohibition as a war measure went into effect on July 1, 1919. Ever since Orange county and Santa Ana went dry the business has been fraught with difficulties and dangers. In previous years federal authorities have not been interested in securing convictions for infractions of county and city prohibition laws. Federal authorities were interested in getting a license tax of $25 a year, or whatever the amount might be, from the liquor dealer, and there their activities ended.

Different Proposition
"It is a different proposition now," said City Marshal Jernigan. "The man Martinez that we arrested here a few days ago is being prosecuted by federal authorities in Los Angeles. The case was worked up here. The man was selling wine at $3.50 a quart. I told the federal officials in Los Angeles that they could depend on local officials in Santa Ana to help them enforce the national prohibition regulations, and that we would do a lot better in helping them than they had been in helping us before prohibition became a national regulation."

"There is very, very little liquor being sold in Orange county now," said Sheriff Jackson. "When retail liquor-selling as a recognized legal business went out in all of the Southern California cities, the opportunities for would-be blind-piggers to get booze became more limited," said Sheriff Jackson. "and very rapidly available holdover stocks have been used up. Occasionally some fellow gets hold of a little booze and quietly peddles it."

High Prices Asked
"I have reports of sales of whiskey having been made at from $12 to $16 a quart. These reports have not been official, but rather of the kind not definite enough to tie to for prosecution. The sales are very few in number. I'd say right now there is not ten per cent as much blind-pigging going on as there was a year ago."

"I have been told by a number of men who have been used to drinking that they are afraid to buy the stuff that they have a chance to city have produced an article that is practically worthless as far as oil or gas in any quantity is concerned. The Post wishes Mr. Boas success in his undertaking at Bolsa Chica."

'MEANEST MAN' IS HERE BUT NAME IS NOT KNOWN
The 'meanest man' in Santa Ana has just "bobbed" up but his identity is not known. He has stolen the official thermometer of the Chamber of Commerce of Santa Ana—an instrument that gives the chamber its records of temperature. W. W. Anderson is the "official weather man" for the Chamber of Commerce, and the instrument has been kept at his home. Last night some one broke open the case containing the instrument, and today Anderson is without means of determining the temperature. It was a government instrument and should the culprit be found the federal government might make it hard for him.

FAIR PRICE OFFICIAL BEGINS WORK IN UTAH

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 13.—Prices as low as are consistent with sound business were promised by James W. Funk, new fair-price commissioner for Utah, who has opened his office here.

"Prices are now very high and the causes are apparent to some," he said. "We shall ask the merchants and manufacturers to act in the spirit of patriotism. We shall have a working arrangement with the U. S. district attorney, but shall not seek to bring business to that office. Rather, we shall try to avoid such action."

PAPERS RAISE PRICES AT SAN BERNARDINO

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 13.—Announcements were made yesterday of an increase of 10 cents a month in the subscription price of the San Bernardino newspapers. The Sun, in announcing its increase, said the cost of newsprint paper has increased 142 per cent in two years. Unless there is relief at once in the newspaper situation the newspapers may make further advances. According to information here, newspapers in cities all over Southern California will soon announce increases in accordance with the announcement recently by the association of Southern California dailies, that prices must be advanced for newspapers to survive.

GOING TO WASHINGTON
IMPERIAL, Jan. 13.—R. D. McPherrin of the committee which is representing the irrigation district at Washington in the interest of the All-American Canal and Soldier Settlement bill, has left here for the capital. Mrs. McPherrin accompanied him as far as Los Angeles, where they are temporarily making their home.

MOVEMENT IS ON FOR OPENING UP CENTRAL AVE., BALBOA

Needed Improvement at Beach Is Under Contemplation for Summer Rush

Opening and dirting or paving of Central avenue from Alverado to Main street, Balboa, is again up for consideration at Balboa, and today the matter is in the hands of Paul E. Kressly, city engineer of Newport.

He will have to thresh out the matter with the Pacific Electric, which owns a wide right of way between the two points. There is plenty of land between the P. E. tracks and the property line for a road on each side of the double track system, should the company ever decide to build the second track.

Balboa is crowded every summer for room for automobiles, and opening of the thoroughfare would offer a great relief—and that the relief must be offered if the beach is to continue as popular as it has been in the past, is conceded by everyone.

It is probable that condemnation proceedings will be started, if it is found necessary to resort to the courts to open the street. The matter was brought before the council at its last meeting by C. G. Alves, and it is stated that it will be pushed vigorously until results are obtained. It will be only a few months until motorists will be rushing to the beach in larger numbers than in the past, and it is the hope of those back of the movement that the street will be available to traffic by the opening of summer.

THREE DOZEN EGGS WAS PART OF LOOT

Three dozen eggs—get that, three dozen—were part of the plunder secured by thieves who Saturday night entered the Third street cafe, now operated by Miss Edith Fitch. Entrance was gained through the back window. A box of spearmint gum, and one carton each of Camel and Lucky Strike cigarettes were carried away by the thief.

Women Meet at Infirmary In Chicago After Years of Separation

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—While nearing the end of their lives, Mrs. Amanda Young and Mrs. Amelia Marsh, twins, aged 86 years say that their greatest desire now is to be allowed to die together.

The twins were formerly the Misses Esterbrook and were born in Chataqua county, N. Y., and until their marriage were inseparable. After marriage they drifted apart and for a number of years had not heard from one another.

Recently they were reunited in the Oak Forest infirmary. Both are now widows and have had children.

THERE IS SHORTAGE IN VALLEY NURSERY STOCK

Fruit growers of the San Joaquin Valley generally this season are experiencing great difficulty in procuring nursery stock, and at the same time they are paying on an average of 25 per cent more for the stock which they do secure over last year. Several of the larger nurserymen of Fresno county say that they were practically sold out of all varieties.

The "shortage" is, in fact, not a shortage, according to nurserymen, but the demand this season is abnormal, and finds the nurseries unable to supply plants, cuttings, and young trees.

MENACING WIRE TO RUN OVER PRIVATE ROUTE

Will Follow Huntington Beach Line Right of Way Out of City

The Pacific Electric today is distributing poles on its Huntington Beach line right of way in preparation for removing its high power line on Main street to that route. An agreement to make such a change was made some time ago and the work today is in execution of that agreement.

The fire on South Main street recently in which a number of houses were damaged by fire, was attributed to this high power wire, with the result that property owners took steps to have the objectionable line removed.

Various routes were suggested for carrying the wire out of the city at points where the danger would be less, the one presented most being removal of the line to a point west of the city, about Artesia street, and to follow either a county road or a private right of way to a junction with the present line along the Newport boulevard.

The company evidently believed it best to run the wire over its own right of way to Huntington Beach.

Follow Right of Way
It is not definitely known, but it is believed to be the intention of the company to follow its right of way to Main street, south of the Southern California sugar factory, there to connect with the present line.

The fire on Main street were caused by a limb of a tree falling on the high power line, and the latter falling across Edison and telephone wires. The possibility of frequent recurrence of such an accident at any time made the wire a menace to the property along Main street, particularly in the closely built-up sections.

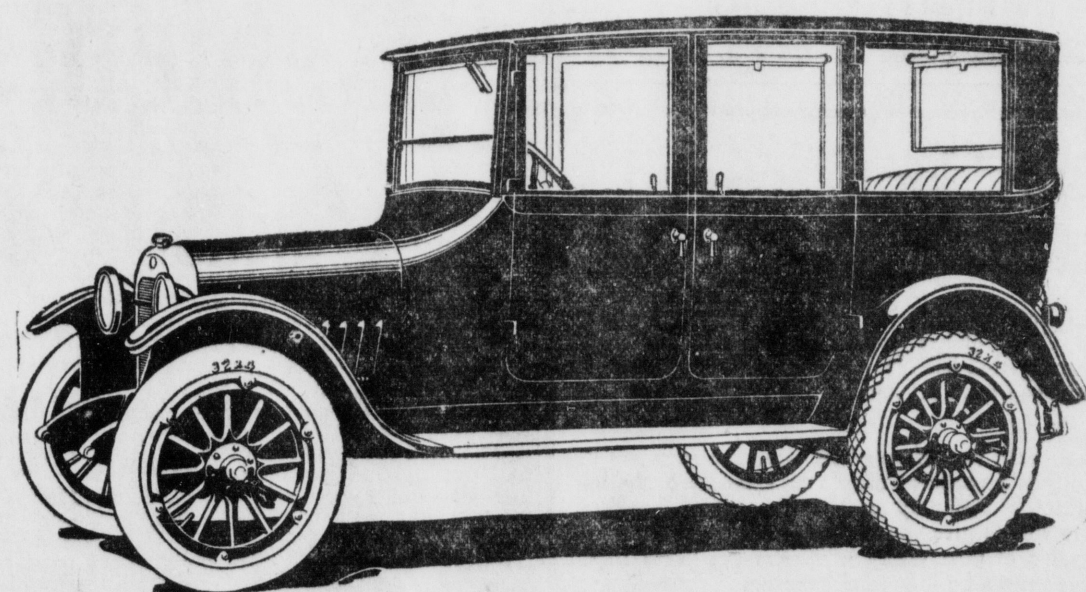

Property owners appeared before the city council in person and with petitions asking that some action looking to the removal of the line be taken. A conference between the trustees and P. E. officials was held and the work in progress today was decided upon.

GAUDY HOSIERY BRINGS STRIKE IN SCHOOL

San Bernardino Sun: Probe by the board of education into the exciting scenes at the high school yesterday, when more than a score of girls of the senior class were suspended for wearing gaudy stockings of many colors and 150 boys walked out on a "sympathetic strike," ended after midnight this morning with a penalty of one extra week of school assessed against all participants, both boys and girls, in the affair. The action of Principal L. L. Beeman was sustained by the board.

During the course of the probe by the board of education, the girls walked before the footlights on the auditorium stage of the Preparatory School while the critical eyes of the educators were focused on the stockings of brilliant hues.

All participants in the "stocking parade" and the "sympathetic strike" were ordered to return to school today. Riotous Stockings The gaudy stockings started the excitement. The playful prank had been arranged, so it was said by some of the participants, to put "a little pep" into the school. Principal L. L. Beeman ordered the girls to return to their homes and change their stockings. The girls went across the street and waited, they said, to warn other girls who were to wear the stockings, not to proceed to school. Boy members of the senior class, who had just completed drilling, joined the girls, and Cloyes Collins attempted to secure a photograph of the stockings, for use, he said, in the "Tyro," the school paper—"to put some 'pep' into it."

Prof. Beeman rushed to the scene and ordered the participants home. The "sympathetic strike" by boys, largely of the senior class, grew each hour. At the close of school a large portion of the students were absent.

An excursion party, properly captioned, was made up and a dance and "feed" was staged at Harlem Springs.

All Out to Meetin' More than 200 parents, teachers and pupils attended the meeting last night to discuss the unusual case. Principal Beeman was the first to testify. Ruth Prest, one of the leaders in the stocking episode, told the girls' side of the case. She did not agree with portions of Prof. Beeman's charges. Charles Bussay, Margaret Dickson, Cloyes Collins, vice president of the student body; Ernest McCook, president of the senior class; Nathan Wilson, major of cadets, and Henry Alvarado told their versions of the affair in support of the students. Vice-Principal Stockton, Miss Monroe, senior class teacher; Miss Shea and Miss Freeman, other teachers, gave testimony supporting Prof. Beeman's statement.

Crandall's Lecture Dr. B. R. Crandall, superintendent of schools, drew a round of applause from the assembly with a heart-to-heart talk. The "sympathetic strike" was reprimanded by the board of education more severely than the prank of the girls. Action of the board last night takes away the annual week of vacation the seniors have at the end of the year and adds a week of study for the underclass students who participated in the affair.

MUTUAL FIRE CO. SHOWS GAIN IN BUSINESS

That the Orange County Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company made a substantial increase in business in 1919, is shown in the annual report of Secretary C. W. McNaught submitted today at the twenty-first annual meeting of the organization held at G. A. R. hall. A net increase of $785,739.64 was made, the company now having policies totaling $7,115,710.72. New business developed during the twelve months exceeded the amount of renewed policies. New insurance written amounted to $1,157,730.00, while renewals totaled $1,129,980.00. The cost of operation was 20.25 cents per $100, a slight gain over previous years and due in a measure to heavier fire losses. The fire losses amounted to $8,945.12, a small amount as compared with the volume of the policies in force. The heaviest single loss was $1500, sustained when the house and garage of Jas. M. Cornelius burned down on May 19th.

The old board of directors and officers were re-elected as follows: T. H. Smith, Tustin, president; W. Dean Johnston, Westminster, vice-president; C. W. McNaught, Santa Ana, secretary; F. E. Farnsworth, Santa Ana, treasurer; M. Enderlin, Santa Ana, assistant secretary; R. W. Jones, El Modena; P. C. Rowland, Santa Ana; C. S. Holt, Garden Grove; J. A. Smiley, Orange; H. H. Hale, Placentia.

ASKING DEMOCRATS TO SEE SAN DIEGO

San Diego Union: A campaign to bring to San Diego delegates and visitors to the Democratic National convention was launched yesterday by the San Diego-California Club. The convention will be held in San Francisco June 23 and the opening of the San Diego and Arizona railway provides a new route for entering or leaving the state by way of San Diego.

This fact and others were brought to the attention of Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the Democratic National committee, in a telegram from Duncan MacKinnon, president of the club, who also telegraphed Congressman William Kettner asking his support and counsel in the movement. The telegram to Cummings said in part:

"Today's papers announce the selection of San Francisco for the Democratic National convention. We welcome you to California. The San Diego-California Club, with a membership of 1000 representative citizens, takes pleasure in bringing to your notice that all visitors and delegates may now enter or leave the state over a new scenic transcontinental route via the San Diego and Arizona railway with its eastern connections, the Southern Pacific and Rock Island, thereby visiting the old missions and enjoying water sports of bay and ocean in cool climate. The weather bureau shows an average temperature here during the week of July 4 of between 61 and 71 degrees. It is an ideal place to rest and confer after the convention. Please wire if you will be able to present this information to state and county chairmen and all delegates."

The telegram to Congressman Kettner was of similar import. "We want these people to come here, now is the time to start," President MacKinnon said. "The San Diego-California Club will do all it can to help."

35 DROWNED AS SHIP HITS ROCK IN STORM

WEYMOUTH, England, Jan. 13.—Thirty-five members of the crew of the British steamer Trevel were drowned when the vessel was wrecked on Kimler Edge Rock, near St. Albans head, during a violent storm in the channel Saturday.

CHINK HOBO "NO SAVY" "MELICAN" COURT WAYS

FULLERTON, June 13.—Joe Murrello, special officer for the Santa Fe, arrested a Chinaman whom he found beating his way on the railroad, something very unusual for a Chinaman. When taken before Judge French the Chinaman, who gave his name as Martin Lou, stated that he had 25 cents, and as he had only ridden three miles he was willing to pay five cents a mile and tendering the money asked for 10 cents change. The "fare" was refused. Judge French sentenced him to 30 days in jail, whereupon Lou exclaimed: "I been getting $4 a day and I will charge you that much for 30 days. You will owe me $120 and you must pay me when the 30 days is up." Judge French is wondering where he will get the money to pay Lou.

HE TELLS JAPS WHY RELATIONS ARE CHANGED

Riverside Press:—An interesting report has come to Riverside of a speech made in Tokio, Japan, by a man well known in Riverside, who has spent many days here. He is Charles H. Sherill and in speaking before a group of Japanese at a banquet on November 19, had the following to say in commenting upon the fact that there is not as friendly a feeling for the Japanese people in America as existed in 1905. He said:

"Japanese friends tell me that Americans who speak here so misunderstand your psychology as to make their speeches mere oratorical sweetmeats, dishes of tasteless compliments. My high opinion of Japanese common sense, so marked a trait among you, emboldens me, who occupies no official position, and speak only for myself, an individual admirer of Japan, to comment frankly on the unfortunate misunderstanding now obvious to any reader of your newspapers or ours."

In 1905 the sympathy of all America was with Japan, and our pockets were open to your loans. In this connection may I remark that ours is the first nation in history to be at the same time the greatest reservoir both of capital and of raw materials. It is a great pity that today the American sentiments of 1905 are altered, and he who pretends otherwise is no true champion of a better and lasting friendship between us.

Studied Conditions I have recently come from a three months' study of these misunderstandings in California, and shall venture a suggestion to ameliorate the situation. The 'Gentlemen's Agreement' was a wise diplomatic device, which recognized that Japan sets up a competition between our labor and the Japanese laborer who accepts less money and longer hours, than our men. It also recognized that this economic undercutting of the American laborer was arousing friction, and you wisely undertook to check it.

In your millions of frugal, industrial laborers lies your greatest power to conquer the markets of the world. But every rose has a thorn, and your ability to live cheaper and work longer than Occidentals is the thorn felt by American labor when your race is transplanted to California. Believe me, gentlemen, the problem surrounding Japanese immigration into America is an economic and not a racial one.

"Here is a proof. When I was in California some years ago so bitter was the feeling there against the cheaper living Chinese labor, that it was not safe for Chinamen to walk alone at night in certain quarters of San Francisco. They then called it racial antipathy and not economic friction, but, since Chinese immigration has been suspended, and therefore the economic friction removed, Chinamen have become popular in California.

Makes Comparison "You meet this Chinese immigration just as we did, for you do not allow cheaper living Chinese or Korean labor to enter Japan to compete with your people. There is no province of Japan where there are 11,000 Chinese to 25,000 Japanese, as today in 11,000 Japanese to 25,000 Americans in Hawaii, and you are quite right thus to protect your labor from undercutting.

"There is no province of Japan where foreign labor is increasing by birth or otherwise in far greater proportion than the Japanese, and yet that is true of Japanese foreign labor in California.

"Your protection of Japanese labor against Chinese or Korean competition leads me to my promised suggestion. My investigations convince me that beyond doubt the Japanese government has loyally lived up to both the spirit and the letter of the 'Gentlemen's Agreement,' but that agreement ought to be supplemented by a 'Ladies' Agreement,' because the loyal adherence of your government to the 'Gentlemen's Agreement' is being offset by the numerous 'picture brides' going from Japan to Japanese laborers in America. Their coming imperils our relations more than you realize and for reasons difficult for you to understand.

Picture Brides "All you see in this 'picture bride' system is a proper desire of your men abroad to get wives from home. You are accustomed to marriages being arranged by parents or friends, and therefore cannot grasp how the 'picture bride' system surprises and jars upon our people.

It isn't a question of right or wrong, but an every day, long prevailing custom of our country, where we are as greatly attached to free matrimonial choice by both contracting parties themselves, as you are to your reverence for ancestors. Neither of us really understands how strongly the other feels in these regards.

"Furthermore, perhaps you do not realize that since these 'picture brides' are imported by Japanese laborers, they assist their husbands, thus becoming laborers themselves, and thus offsetting the loyalty of your government to the Gentlemen's Agreement. And besides, they bear many more children than do the wives of their American neighbors, thus constantly increasing them of the increasing proportion of Japanese to Americans in Hawaii, which brings us right back to the economic competition again. A 'Ladies' Agreement' limiting the number of laborers' wives going to America, would restore the situation to the wise basis reached by the 'Gentlemen's Agreement.' The lack of a 'Ladies' Agreement' permits economic friction to increase, with a certain result that none of us cares to contemplate."

BEISSEL HEADS DIRECTORS OF ASSOCIATION

At the shareholders' meeting of the Home Mutual Building & Loan Association held last evening, there were represented in person and by proxy 3795 shares out of a total of 5762½ shares.

F. W. Mansur, owing to the greater demand upon his time by the increased business of the Orange County Title Co., declined to serve as director and W. E. Winslow was elected with the other members of the old board.

The following will be the officers for the year: Directors, P. G. Beissel, E. B. Sprague, G. M. Kryhl, N. A. Beals, J. G. Horton, R. S. Greer, W. E. Winslow; president, P. G. Beissel; vice-president, E. B. Sprague; secretary, O. M. Robbins; treasurer, H. L. Hanson; depository, First National Bank.

The past year has been the most successful in the history of the institution, 235 loans, amounting to $400,000.00 having been made. The assets of the association have increased from $583,146.04 to $757,715.89. The delinquent interest is less than one year ago and much smaller than other building and loan associations of its size in the state.

WESTERN UNION GRANTS ANOTHER WAGE RAISE

Manager Fred Warner and his assistant, C. T. Rushing of the local Western Union office, are having something of a Happy New Year, partly due to a 15 per cent increase in pay, effective January 1. Some three-two thousand Western Union employees are affected, and the wage raise aggregates about five million dollars a year. This most recent agreement reached some time ago between the management and the association of Western Union employees, The W. U. is one of the large corporations which engages in the process of collective bargaining with its employees, and this is the latest of several general increases which have been negotiated as a means of offsetting to a certain extent the increased cost of living which has fallen so heavily upon the salaried class.

WOMEN'S VOTE GREAT FACTOR AT ELECTION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The extent to which the woman vote will count in the coming Presidential election, provided the constitutional suffrage amendment is ratified in time, may be seen in the fact that there are approximately 28,000,000 women of voting age in the United States. There are 17,000,000 already eligible to vote at Presidential elections. But only 7,000,000 will be able to vote for congressmen, if the amendment is not ratified. Ratification by a minimum of thirty-six states is required. Already twenty-four states have ratified, and many legislatures are soon to act.

REDLANDS PLANNING FOR BETTER CAMPS

Realizing that Redlands gets an incalculable amount of advertising of the best sort from the hundreds of automobile tourists who come here each year and use the free camping grounds in Sylvan park, the city trustees are preparing to greatly improve the camping facilities there. It is probable that for the benefit of the campers the camping grounds will be moved temporarily to that section of the park just east of the comfort station where the children's wading pool is, but by another year it is planned to place the camping grounds in the pine grove south of Sylvan boulevard. This was an important matter brought up at the trustees' meeting yesterday.

Mayor A. E. Brock spoke of attending the meeting of the League of California Municipalities at Riverside and of the things that are being done by cities all up and down the coast for the benefit of the campers. It is felt that the present grounds, which are also the picnic grounds of the city, are too restricted, especially so when there are big picnics there. It is hoped to arrange matters so that the campers will have more privacy and where they will be better taken care of than at the present.

Some time ago the city trustees decided to utilize the pine grove south of Sylvan boulevard for this purpose. Before it can be done it is planned to sod it and this will make it necessary to postpone using it for that purpose for a year at least. It was pointed out that some of the campers had said that the park was ideal with the exception that the picnic grounds and camp grounds being together made it bad in some respects, so the city trustees are now endeavoring to overcome that objection.

The park committee and the city engineer believe that the section of the park around the west comfort station would be better. It is not much used by local people and it would give the campers more private grounds with better facilities for enjoying their stay here. They would have much more privacy than in the other place and they would enthrust more over the local facilities than they have in the past.

DANIELS MAKES PLEA FOR SAN DIEGO BASE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Operation of a submarine and destroyer base at San Diego, Cal., was urged yesterday by Sec'y Daniels before the House naval affairs committee. Maintenance of such a base is estimated to entail an expenditure of approximately $2,000,000 a year. Opposition to the plan was voiced by Representative Butler, chairman of the committee on the ground that it was unnecessary because he said San Diego is close to San Francisco.

Daniels said if the base were established that battleships and submarines going through the canal into the Pacific would not have to go to San Francisco which is 500 miles further up the coast.

CHICAGO PAPERS CUT PRICE TO NEWSBOYS

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—Chicago newspapers have announced a reduction in price to newsboys and carriers. The papers will continue to sell to the public for 2 cents. The move was made, announcements said because it was recognized that the newsboys must make more money either by a better wholesale rate or by advancing the retail price to three cents. Practically all the papers said a three cent newspaper is the "cheapest thing in the world but that the owners did not wish to contribute to the vicious circle of increasing prices."

Orange Happenings

ORANGE, Jan. 13.—The annual meeting of the Christian church was held at the church. The second division of the forward movement contest had charge of the music and program. Musical numbers were given by the three children of George Stoner, whose appearance always creates great interest and a ladies quartet gave two numbers. The election of officers resulted as follows: Elders, R. L. Freeman, B. A. Peterson and Theo. Mumford; trustees, M. O. Ainsworth, D. C. Pixley and R. C. Burkett; treasurer, L. L. Granger; Bible school superintendent, Dayton Ditchey; Sunday school secretary, Mrs. C. G. Wolf; assistant secretary, Miss Maude Calloud; treasurer, Miss Tessa Conner; head usher, George P. Campbell.

After the election of officers the mortgage which had been on the church for the past ten years was paid and the note cancelled. "Praise God, From Whom All Blessings Flow" was sung and the pastor offered a word of prayer. A series of ten enlargement socials have been given by the women of the church, the last one having been given in July. The men of the church, to show their appreciation of the work done by the women, had a banquet, and before the dinner was over the balance of the debt had been pledged. At the close of the meeting a social time was had in the basement of the church at which over one hundred attended.

Attorney and Mrs. L. F. Coburn accompanied by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Adams, and child have returned from a month's visit at Yreka, Cal., where they visited relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Paul and little son, Roscoe, of Clear Lake, Iowa, have arrived and are visiting at the home of Mrs. Paul's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Baker, of 280 North Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hobbs have returned to Harvard, Nebraska, after a visit here of several months with relatives.

Huntington Beach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 13.—E. B. Stevens of Riverside has bought the property at 708 Ocean avenue and the family is living in the little cottage in the rear for the present. Mr. Stevens is a painter and decorator by trade.

I. C. Warner has the contract for building a new bungalow for Mr. Slater of Wintersburg and the lumber is on the ground. Work will begin this week.

George M. Gunn has joined with W. D. Seely in the real estate business.

T. G. Rothmeir of Belleflower has bought out the barber shop at the Royal Billiard hall and expects to take over the business Thursday. He will occupy the Jacob Mueller house at 627 Tenth street and move the family in Thursday. Mr. Rothmeir has been working with the P. E. R. Co., as conductor.

It was rumored on the streets on Monday afternoon that gas had been struck in the Huntington Well No. 1, the Standard Oil company lease. Up to this writing the rumor could not be confirmed. As near as can be ascertained the depth of the well is not far from the 2000 foot level; having passed through several hundred feet of blue shale.

"THE HOME OWNER'S WARMEST FRIEND"

From a standpoint of health, comfort and economy, you owe it to yourself and family to investigate the MAGIC WAY before deciding on any heating system. Prominent architects and builders recommend the MAGIC WAY solely on its merits. Ask any MAGIC WAY owner and surely you'll be convinced that it is "THE HOME OWNER'S WARMEST FRIEND."

When you get up on a cold morning what do you do? Do you have to "tend" an old fashioned furnace? Do you have to light a gas stove and wait for the rooms to become warm? Do you have to handle nasty coal or some kind of ashes? Do you have all the heat you want, just when you want it with none wasted?

Here's the way a Magic Way works: You wake up in the morning and feel the nip in the air. You desire to have the dining room warmed. Just reach over and press a button labeled "Dining Room." Instantly you have fresh, warm air in the dining room and no place else. It's the same with any other room you desire to heat.

When you press the button a simple little electric device in the basement lights the gas in the unit that warms the dining room. When the room is warm enough you press the button again and the gas is turned off. No guess work about it. You KNOW exactly what you're doing. Any child that is old enough to read can operate the Magic Way just as efficiently as a grown person.

From the point of comfort the Magic Way is absolutely in a class by itself. It is the most healthful of all methods of heating. It would not be possible to imagine a system more convenient. It is proof against accidents. And yet—with all these qualities it is the most economical heating system on earth. These are all very broad statements and if true they certainly ought to have your consideration. All we ask is an opportunity to prove them. When you come to investigate you'll find a lot of other points of merit that have not been mentioned. Try it and see.

A Magic Way Unit will cost you less than some stoves.

SEEK KIDNAPER OF BUENA PARK GIRL

Authorities in Southern California today sought to place in arrest Lazaro Guerrero, charged with child stealing, and were guided in their quest by virtue of the fact that the girl in the case, Virginia Hernandez, alleged to be thirteen years of age, has the first finger of her left hand missing.

The abduction was alleged to have occurred at Buena Park. According to the story told by Catonia Medina, who swore to the complaint, Miss Hernandez went to the back door to wash her hands while members of her family were eating supper. She failed to return.

Guerrero is said to be twenty-two years of age, six feet tall and shabbily dressed. He is wanted at Artesia on a charge of burglary, according to Deputy Sheriff Charles Haddock.

ENLARGING CLASS ROOMS AT CHURCH

FULLERTON, Jan. 13.—Extensive improvements and changes are being completed in the M. E. church, to accommodate the large and rapidly growing Sunday school. It has so outgrown the building that a new building seemed imperative, but, on account of high cost of labor and material, it was thought best not to build at present so the interior was remodelled for temporary relief.

Next Sunday the classes will meet in their new quarters and the school will be completely departmented, which will be another great improvement for, heretofore, with the exception of the two lower grades, all departments have had to meet together, for assembly work.

SEED SPROUTS IN EAR AND HEARING IS LOST

KLONDIKE, Tex., Jan. 13.—Ever hear of a hackberry seed sprouting in a boy's ear and trying to grow a real tree? Well, such a thing happened. Two years ago the nine-year-old son of J. R. Moore, a farmer near here, while eating hackberries in a tree on the Moore farm got one of the big berries in his ear. In a short time the seed sprouted and the lad began to have trouble with his ear. A specialist called found that the sprout and the seed, while decayed, had ruined the hearing in that ear. The rotted part of the seed and the sprout were removed.

RESERVING OF SPACE IS QUICKLY OVER DONE

San Diego Union:—Many petitions from hotel and theatre men and others for permits to reserve space in front of the entrances to their establishments in which automobiles will not be allowed to park are being received by the council. The traffic ordinance was amended recently to give the council power to grant such permits.

The U. S. Grant hotel yesterday applied for a permit to reserve 75 feet in front of its main entrance on Broadway, 50 feet on Third street, and 40 feet on Fourth street. Heller, the grocer, wishes to reserve 25 feet on the Fifth street side of his store and 25 feet on the E street side.

If all permits requested are allowed there will be little parking space left in the congested district.

SUPER CHICKENS AND EGGS ARE PREDICTED

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 13.—Super chickens and eggs, two or three times their present size, at a cost not much greater than the present prices, was predicted by Alton E. Briggs, Boston, President of the National Poultry, Egg and Butter Association, in an address to the 1,002 delegates attending the opening session of the recent thirteenth annual convention. Briggs said a new type of super-hen is being bred and in the near future would reach the public, thus doing much to lower the cost of fowl.

Dealers Urged To Put Secret Marks On Bicycles Sold

BICYCLE dealers of Orange county, be sure you keep an accurate record of the bicycles you sell.

That was advice given today by Under Sheriff Jack Iman, who during the past several days has been investigating thefts of bicycles in various parts of the county.

"Unless dealers keep a careful record of the factory numbers of wheels they sell it is almost impossible in some cases to determine the ownership of bicycles alleged to have been stolen," said Iman.

Some years ago bicycle dealers in the county agreed on a system of secret marks, designed to facilitate the identification of bicycles by police authorities. Iman did not say that dealers were becoming lax in marking bicycles sold by them, but he said he believed a word of caution at this time would not be amiss.

MOTOR POLICEMEN ATTEND BARBECUE

About sixty-two stern enforcers of the law, most of them of the division interested in the "toning down of speed demons" today relaxed the muscles of their faces into jolly grins and reminiscences, following a "feed" given by the Bastanchury interests on their ranch, north of Fullerton.

Bill Silva, field foreman on the Bastanchury ranch, who is an expert at barbecuing steaks, was kept busy from one to three o'clock. During this time one hundred juicy steaks, to say nothing of other foods, disappeared as if by magic, while several score husky motorcycle officers and other representatives of the law did a little "food enforcing."

There were present members of the motorcycle squad from Los Angeles county, Los Angeles city, Orange county, Orange city, Santa Ana, San Diego county and city, San Bernardino county and city and Riverside.

THOMAS IS REVERSED BY APPELLATE COURT

Placed on file today was a copy of an opinion rendered by the district court of appeal, reversing Superior Judge W. H. Thomas in denying Mabel B. Riordan, defendant in an action begun by Henry Jackson Beggs over two lots, a motion to set aside a judgment rendered against her and permitting her to defend. Beggs instituted the proceedings under what is known as the Torrens land title law. He set forth in his petition that his title to the lots was acquired by virtue of two tax deeds, dated September 25, 1915. The appellant alleges irregularities in the tax deeds and record of the proceedings leading up to the issuing of the tax deeds on which the plaintiff's action was based. She claimed she had a complete defense to the action and was the record owner of the property, subject only to the alleged claims of the tax deeds, which her attorney declared to be void.

CHILD IS CHAMPION PICKER OF COTTON

ANNISON, Ala., Jan. 13.—Edna Stewart, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Knox Stewart of Muncie, is the champion cotton picker of Northern Talladega county and has made an unusual record during the present picking season. The girl can "pick 40 pounds by dinner" almost any day without half trying, according to her own way of expressing it, and the speed with which she gathers the locks is the marvel of her neighbors and friends. The picker regards her achievements as a matter of course and takes it for granted that any other little girl who lives on a farm is "doing her bit" by getting out and taking what the boll weevil left.

WOLF BOUNTY RAISED

JANESVILLE, Wis., Jan. 13.—Timber wolves are so numerous in Rock County the farmers are being forced to abandon raising pure bred cattle. Depredations during recent weeks have influenced the county board to boost the bounty from $10 to $25. The wolves invade pastures, barns and chicken coops and are bold enough to come to the outskirts of the city.

CLOTHIERS TO BRING DOWN GARMENT COST

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—The National Association of Retail Clothiers met here today to make plans for bringing down the cost of clothing and guard against a threatened rise of spring wearing apparel.

"We intend to do everything in our power to reduce the cost of clothes to a minimum," Charles E. Wry, secretary of the association, said before the meeting convened.

"Every branch of the clothing industry, including labor, will be in attendance. We intend to study every angle of the proposition, in an effort to devise some scheme of action to lower the cost of both production and material."

Approximately 2,000 members of the clothing industry were present at the opening session, and many more were expected. The convention adjourns Jan. 16.

HUBBY WROTE 100,000 LETTERS SHE ASSERTS

AKRON, O., Jan. 13.—In the course of the hearing or use suit of John Martin Beck, 17 years of age, against the beneficiaries of the will of Edward Martin Beck, his father, the mother of the youth declared that the deceased had written her 100,000 letters during their acquaintance and married life.

This, it was figured out implies that he wrote 5,000 letters a year, and fifteen letters a day. Postal authorities said that such correspondence would use up $2,000 in postage and an equal amount in stationery.

The letters gathered together would weigh approximately five tons and would be too numerous to count, and would be too numerous to count, and would be too numerous to count.

REFORESTATION GROUP IS TO MEET WEDNESDAY

The thirteenth annual meeting of the Tri-County Reforestation committee will be held Wednesday, January 14th, at 10:30 o'clock at the Glenwood Mission Inn, Riverside. Alvarado A. Pratt will give an address at the Regent theatre on "Porous Structures for Flood Control," illustrating the address with moving pictures. The public is invited to see these pictures and no admission will be charged. They will be shown beginning at 11 o'clock.

FORESTRY POLICY CLAUSES ADOPTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—Four definite clauses to be included in the forest policy for California have been adopted by the State Board of Forestry in session here and will be presented at the next session of the legislature. They follow:

1.—Appropriation by the state legislature of sufficient funds for the prevention and suppression of forest, grain and pasture fires outside of national forests.

2.—Acquirement of logged-off areas, both in the redwoods and pine forests, as a nucleus of state forests for future timber supply.

3.—Acquirement of watersheds necessary for the conservation of water for domestic and irrigation purposes.

4.—Renewal of forests on logged-off areas and watersheds that are in need of reforestation.

Already the logged-off area in California is 600,000 acres. "Immediate action must be taken in California," declared Dr. George C. Pardee, chairman of the board, "if this state is to profit by the mistakes of states and other nations. Vast logged-off fire-swept areas will not attract tourists nor will they support saw mills and thriving communities, nor provide lumber for future generations."

Passing the Buck

Buck has been in use for centuries as a thing that is passed, yet it has never become a thing of the past. It possesses a unique faculty for passing without passing away.

Hence it is always present. We speak of passing the buck, but never the passing of the buck. Technically the buck is a present, but to speak of a present that is passed or a passing that is ever present would be confusing. This resort is made to the word buck.

When we pass the buck we make a present of what was passed to us by passing the present to somebody else. The act of passing the present from passer to passee, passing for passing the buck. But the buck thus passed becomes not a past present, but a present passed.

Passing the buck was a popular pastime in the past. As there are no signs that its popularity is passing at present, the buck should continue to be passed in future.—Western Drug Review.

CENSUS BUSINESS IS GOING TO BOW-WOWS

ANAHEIM, Jan. 13.—That the life of a census enumerator is not a dreamy vale of ease and pleasure is revealed in the satirization which Mary A. Mattis wrote of her success on a postal card from Anaheim to Charles G. Rowan, supervisor of census, as follows:

"Dear Sir: One more day of mud, chill, enchilada, doge,—more dogs, some more dogs. Yese will have to order out the militia to dig out one enumerator, Dist. 53."

DEMAND IN BRITAIN FOR MORE COMFORT

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Although there is an ever growing demand for more household comforts in England, there is still strong opinion against what is asserted will tend to make John Bull effeminate.

A wealthy American recently desiring to rent a large house in the country near London was willing to install at his own expense a complete steam-heating plant. The agents representing the owner, while assenting to the proposal, which was to cost the American several thousand dollars, added that the owner would expect the American to remove the whole steam-heating plant on the expiration of his lease.

The American is renting another house where the owner is willing to accept a voluntary improvement of his cold, but handsome house.

The best propagandists for household comforts are Englishmen and women who have enjoyed their winter household experiences in America. Such women are all against returning to the rigorous atmosphere of an old English residence. They are no longer pleased with being heroic martyrs to antiquated traditions. Having once discovered that it is possible to sit indoors without cold feet and red hands during the severest weather, these fair ones are all for converting John Bull to a steam heated era.

DODGE IS IMPROVING.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The condition of Horace Dodge, wealthy Detroit automobile manufacturer, was described as "much improved" by his physician, Dr. Ira Hill, here today. John Dodge is still "critically" ill with pneumonia, the physician said.

MUCH INTEREST IS SHOWN IN REVIVAL

Revival services continue at the Richland Avenue Methodist church. Interest in the meetings is growing and the congregation Sunday evening entirely filled the church and last evening the attendance was large.

Rev. Burton Y. Neal preached last night on "How Shall We Escape, If We Neglect So Great Salvation?" and illustrated his discourse with the idea of cultivating the things of life. "If we have a garden and neglect it, it will run to weeds. The mind uncultivated, unattended, is the devil's workshop; but the mind cultured in the ways of God is able to think God's thoughts after Him. The heart cultured and endowed by the love of God is able to realize fellowship with the divine. To neglect the salvation God has provided is to lose out in this world and in the world to come."

Tonight, Rev. John Oliver, pastor of the First Methodist church, will speak on "The New Birth." Dr. Oliver expects to preach several nights this week and has hopes of the most successful outcome of these meetings. The entire membership is encouraged by the growing interest among the people.

BURMAN BEATS GRIFFIN

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 13.—Joe Burman, Chicago bantam, knocked out Dick Griffin at Fort Worth in the third round of their scheduled 12 round bout here last night.

REAL ESTATE MEN OF STATE TO CONVENE

According to the San Francisco Real Estate Board, the year just past has been the most successful year in the history of the State, and the San Francisco Brokers are going to celebrate the fact in a thoroughly San Franciscan manner, by entertaining the real estate men and their families, from all over the State of California, at the Fifteenth Annual Convention of the California Real Estate Association, to be held in their city on Friday and Saturday, the 23rd and 24th of January.

Two business sessions and a banquet have been arranged for, and in addition to a tour on the bay, and an auto trip throughout the city, the Realtors in charge of the convention are contemplating plans of showing the visiting delegates San Francisco by airplane.

It has not yet been decided whether the day or night will be utilized for this novel method of showing off the metropolis, as weather conditions will be the ruling factor in determining this.

Some of the best brains in the real estate business, of the Pacific Coast, have been invited to address the visitors on all the live topics of interest to real estate brokers, and a record attendance is looked for.
